SENATE

TUESDAY, MAY 22, 1923.

The Senate met at 11 o'clock A. M.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor David J. Davis) in the Chair.

PRAYER.

The Chaplain, Rev. Edward S. Ninde, offered the following prayer.

Our Bountiful Father in Heaven:

We bring Thee hearty thanks for Thine unnumbered mercies. Thou art the giver of every good and perfect gift. While so many of our fellowmen are suffering for the necessities of daily comfort, Thou hast made ample provision for us. We have food and raiment, and our homes and kind friends. We have minds fashioned after Thy mind and we are able to think Thy thoughts after Thee. Best of all we know Thee and Thy dear Son, Jesus Christ, and we have a hope and faith that reach on into the future. Help us to make good use of Thy gifts, and day by day may we seek Thy honor and glory. For Jesus' sake. Amen.

The PRESIDENT—A quorum of the Senate being present the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding session, when, on motion of Mr. BUCKMAN, the further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

REPORTS FROM COMMITTEES.

Mr. STITES, from the Committee on Judiciary General reported as committed, Senate Bill No. 732 (House Bill No. 983) entitled:

An act authorizing John J. Higgins of the City of Philadelphia Pennsylvania to bring suit against the Commonwealth.

Mr. BARR, from the Committee on Banks and Building and Loan Associations, re-reported as amended, Senate Bill No. 229 (House Bill No. 211) entitled:

An act authorizing the issue and sale of bonds by the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania for any lawful purpose defining the powers and duties of the Governor the Auditor General and the State Treasurer in relation thereto making an appropriation of the proceeds of such bonds for the purposes intended providing for the payment of interest on and the redemption of such bonds by the Sinking Fund Commission and fixing the compensation of the loan and transfer agent of the Commonwealth in connection therewith.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Barr, will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I want to take this occasion to call to the attention of the Senate the fact that this Act House Bill No. 211, was introduced by Representative Dunn in the House in good faith in order to provide a means, or a vehicle by which, if the furture issues of bonds come before a vote of the people in November, 1923, and are authorize, it will make possible for the fiscal officers of the state including the Governor, the Auditor General and State Treasurer, to release forthwith, if the bonds are approved by the people, $50,000,000 of road bonds, $35,000,000 soldiers' bonus and $25,000,000 for forestry which will come before the voters in 1925. When this bill was introduced by Mr. Dunn it provided no method for a loan and transfer agent of the Commonwealth, which was heretofore provided by law. It seems that when the bill was reported to the floor an amendment was made by some persons other than a member of the Assembly. They wrote into this bill the words "the duly authorized loan and transfer agent of the Commonwealth" and also the Auditor General shall also give to each General Assembly a statement of the compensation due the duly authorized loan and transfer agent of the Commonwealth for its services, payment of which shall be made by appropriation on the basis of fifty cents per thousand dollars per annum on all loans outstanding."

That is the particular portion that I wish to call to the attention of the Senate. Fifty cents per thousand per annum for work that may not amount to ten dollars' worth of services in any one year. The amount of bonds outstanding at the present time is $50,000,000. This amendment would give to the transfer agent $25,000 per year; if the $110,000,000 is authorized by the people it will add another $55,000 per year that the State of Pennsylvania will be obligated to pay to the transfer agent of the state, making a total of $80,000 per year for services not rendered to the State of Pennsylvania.

I also found on investigating this bill that at the time of the issuance of the $50,000,000 of road bonds the then officers of this state had printed $150,000,000 of bonds and all of the bonds were signed and certified, and the seal of the State of Pennsylvania is, I am informed, on each one of the $100,000,000 of bonds that rest in the transfer agent's vaults at the present time for certification and transfer when needed.

I also learned that the attorney for the bank which acts as fiscal agent does not say that the bonds in escrow are legal bonds and can be delivered in lieu of any of the $50,000,000 now outstanding.

I believe that an investigation will show this Senate that the $100,000,000 resting in the vaults of the agent at Philadelphia is a menace to this state. I think that the bonds should be destroyed forthwith. The bonds as they were signed and sealed as of apart date constitute an obligation that when they are transferred as of this date are not signed by officers of the State of Pennsylvania and therefore do not make a good and legal transfer of the bonds or a good and legal obligation of the state. We have fully amended bill, No. 211 so that the bonds when they are concelled must be destroyed, both bonds and coupons, in order that the bonds and coupons become non-negotiable.

Mr. President and gentlemen of the Senate, in my opinion this bill is one that requires the closest scrutiny on the part of the Senate before it is passed, even as amended. This is cut down from fifty cents per thousand to thirty cents per thousand for the original bonds issued and sold by the State of Pennsylvania and thereafter thirty cents per thousand for each bond certified or registered in any one year, cutting down the original cost on the $110,000,000, if approved by the people to $33,000. An adequate amount of money should be paid for services rendered by the fiscal agent when that amount is paid the payment by the state should cease and there should be nothing paid on the $50,000,000 now outstanding, and the bill as amended will provide that no money shall be paid except for the original service.

Mr. President, I have gone into detail on this question because I have given a good deal of thought and attention to this matter. It is something that concerns the welfare of all the people and that is vital to the State of Pennsylvania.

HOUSE CONCURS IN RESOLUTION, RELATIVE TO PURCHASE OF LAND UNDER THE WEEKS LAW.

He also presented communication from the House of Representatives informing the Senate that the House has concurred in resolution from the Senate, as follows:

In the Senate, May 21, 1923.

Whereas, The Federal Government in the enactement of the Weeks law after prolonged inquiry and discussion, in order to meet urgent National needs, adopted the permanent policy of purchasing lands on the watersheds of navigable rivers to be administered as National forests and for the protection and improvement of navigation, and provided for expenditure for that purpose at the rate of $2,000,000 a year; and

Whereas, Owing to the condition of the Federal Treasury resulting from the burdens of the war, the appropriation for said purpose for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1923, was cut down to $450,000, an amount inadequate to carry out the said policy with economy and efficiency; and

Whereas, The failing timber supply and the expense of transportation have brought the eastern part of the United States to a condition of virtual famine in this fundamental resource wherefore appropriations to correct this condition should be made with increasing liberality and considered as vital to the welfare of the Nation; and

Whereas, This Commonwealth, sensible of its own needs and its duty towards sister states in the matter of timber supply and stream regulation through forest restoration on lands more suitable for that purpose than for other uses, has purchased and is administering as State forests more than 1,130,000 acres of land, chiefly on the watersheds of navigable rivers; and

Whereas, The General Assembly desiring more nearly to meet the need of forest restoration on the remaining 13,000,000 acres of land chiefly valuable for forest production within the borders of the Commonwealth has initiated at this present Session an amendment of the Constitution of the Commonwealth to authorize a bond issue of $25,000,000 for the purchase of approximately 5,000,000 additional acres of land for State forest which will be located chiefly on the outersheds of navigable streams;

Now, therefore, be it Resolved, (the House of Representatives concurring) That it is hereby recommended and respectfully urged upon the President, the Congress and the Federal Budget Bureau that expenditures for land purchase under the Weeks Law at the rate of $2,000,000 per year be resumed beginning with the fiscal year ending June 30, 1924, as the minimum present contribution consistent with the performance of National duty toward the States and the people in this matter; and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be transmitted by the Secretary of the Commonwealth to the following officers of the United States: The President, The President of the Senate, the Speaker of the House of Representatives, the Director of the Bureau of the Budget, the Chairman of the National Forest Reservation Commission, the Chairman of the Select Committee of the Senate on Reforestation; also to each Senator and Representative representing the Commonwealth in Congress.

HOUSE NON-CONCURS IN AMENDMENTS TO HOUSE BILL No. 700.

He also presented communication from the House of Representatives, informing the Senate that the House has non-concurred in the amendments made by the Senate to House Bill No. 700, entitled:

A Joint Resolution proposing an amendment to the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania providing for a budget system

NAYS—1.

Leslie,

A majority of all the Senators having voted "aye" the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present said bill to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

REQUEST TO HAVE BILL GO OVER IN ITS ORDER.

Mr. LONG. Mr. President, I ask that Senate Bill No. 415, (House Bill No. 449), entitled:

An Act to amend paragraph one section five of the act approved the twenty-ninth day of April one thousand eight hundred and seventy-four (Pamphlet Laws seventy-three) entitled "An Act to provide for the incorporation and regulation of certain corporations" as amended changing the effect of the by-laws of corporations go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection?

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, I object. This bill has been recommitted more than once to the Judiciary General Committee and referred to the sub-committee of which Senator Buckman has been chairman. It has been thoroughly discussed in the Committee on Judiciary General, and I would like to know why the Senator asks that it to go over. I know he is opposed to it.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair hears objection.

Mr. LONG. Mr. President, concerning that last remark as to being opposed to the bill; I understand it is not the bill which was reported. It was introduced in the House and comes over here and I think the two bills ought to be considered together.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, I object to it going over in order.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair hears objection.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 415, (House Bill No. 449), entitled:

An Act to amend paragraph one section five of the act approved the twenty-ninth day of April one thousand eight hundred and seventy-four (Pamphlet Laws seventy-three) entitled "An Act to provide for the incorporation and regulation of certain corporations" as amended changing the effect of the by-laws of corporations

And said bill having been read at length the third time,

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill?

MOTION TO POSTPONE BILL.

Mr. LONG. Mr. President, I move that the question together with the further consideration of the bill be postponed for the present.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, This is not my bill. It is a bill of my colleague from Philadelphia and it has, as I stated a moment ago, been thoroughly discussed in the Committee on Judiciary General and has been reported out with the favorable recommendation of that committee. If there are any technical questions I cannot answer, I will refer you to my colleague, Senator Buckman, who knows the legal aspect of the bill better than I do. I am sure it is a perfectly good bill and has been on the calendar a long time.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

A division being called for the yeas were 14, the nays 16, whereupon the question was determined in the negative.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the bill?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. LONG. Mr. President, I am opposed to this bill and I know that there are a number of other Senators in this Senate, who are opposed to it because of the change in the corporation laws in the State of Pennsylvania. This bill proposes that the provisions of the by-laws of a corporation shall not be binding in any way upon certain persons. That is, that an agent of a corporation, or the manager of a corporation, would be restricted so far as those parties are concerned in the things that he might do. It is a very dangerous piece of legislation, it seems to me. It opens wide the door for looting corporations of all kinds by officials or by agents who exceed their authority. A board of directors may pass resolutions authorizing a man, their agent, to do certain things, or men in dealing with other persons may exceed their authority, no matter to what extent, under this bill, and the corporation has no way of protecting itself, and the stockholders of the corporation have no way of protecting themselves. For more than a century we have built up a certain practice in connection with the dealings with corporations. People know that in dealing with corporations we have dealt with men who may have and do have limited authority and they certainly ought to be required to make some investigation as to the authority that the agent or the officer has. This bill will absolutely not make that necessary. They would not need to inquire what the authority of the agent was, or the officer. If the third persons would make it a point not to inquire, and they would not want to know, because they would not be able to hold the corporation, regardless of whether the agent, or the officer, had the authority or not, provided they did not know. It seems to me that this practice ought not to be changed by a bill as radical as this. If this bill were limited to negotiable instruments there might be some reason for it, but really it is made in this particular way that it would affect the corporations generally. It seems that the bill is not a proper bill to be passed. It is the most dangerous legislation that has been offered in this Senate or in the House at this session.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, this bill is not as bad as it seems or has been pictured. This bill was referred to the Committee on Corporations, of which I have the honor of being chairman, several months ago, and it was considered at all of the meetings of that Committee and it was afterwards reported from that Committee favorably, after certain amendments were made, and then referred to the Committee on Judiciary General and by that Committee was referred to a sub-committee, who investigated its contents and its effect fully. While it was in the Committee on Corporations, I was somewhat in doubt about its effect, and I submitted it to some of the best corporation lawyers in the city of Philadelphia and perhaps in the State of Pennsylvania, and they all endorsed the bill and said that it was perfectly proper. The bill is drawn to meet a decision of the Supreme Court to the effect that outside parties are, in Pennsylvania, bound by the by-laws of the corporation, whether or not they know what those by-laws are, even to the extent of invalidating negotiable paper, and this bill is drawn to meet that decision. Under the present law in Pennsylvania, and I understand Pennsylvania is the only state which has such a law, if the officers of a corporation according to its bylaws do not have authority to sign negotiable paper, even the banks who are innocent purchasers or holders for value of that negotiable paper may lose money by reason of the fact that some by-law of the corporation would forbid the officers to sign the note or notes, and this bill is, as I have said, drawn up to meet that situation. There is no danger in the bill, I am thoroughly satisfied. I was a little doubtful about it myself. There was one word in it which the Committee of which I am chairman had added. It was the word "apparently", reading "apparently acting in the scope of their employment". That word was taken out it has been approved by some of the best corporation lawyers in the city, representing not only the ordinary corporation but representing banks and other institutions. The bill has been fully considered, not only by the Corporations Committee, but by the Committee on Judiciary General and I see no reason why it should not pass at this time.

Mr. STEELE. Mr. President, I am not an attorney but happen to be an officer of several banks, and I believe that this bill is a mischievous bill to the best interests of the banking institutions, against the best interests of our common people and I think that this bill opens the door for many things to be done that might result in disaster to the banking institutions of our State. It is a very easy matter for any banking institution to satisfy itself as to the authority of the officers of a corporation with whom they deal to sign the papers that are presented to a certain corporation, and as to the matter of burden, I know that the banking officials do this very thing, but to authorize the officers of a bank or corporation to actually do as they please to bind the corporation which they represent, regardless of the authority conferred upon those officers by the by-laws, is a mischievous and a wrong thing to do, and as an officer of a corporation, of a bank, I do not desire to enjoy any such privilege. I think it is against the best interests of the stockholders of the corporation that this bill should be enacted. I am opposed to the bill and think it should be defeated.

MEMORIAL SERVICE ON THE DEATH OF THE LATE HONORABLE NORMAN A. WHITTEN.

The Senate met at two o'clock P. M.

The PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE (Mr. T. L. Eyre), in the Chair.

The PRESIDENT. This being the time fixed by the resolution for holding the memorial services on the death of the late Senator Norman A. Whitten, the Senate will be in order and be opened with prayer by the Chaplain.

The Chaplain, Rev. Edward S. Ninde, offered the following prayer:

Our Heavenly Father: We come to Thee because we are in need, and Thou alone art able to help us. The sable messenger whom we call Death, has entered the Senate circle, and called away one of its members. He was held in high esteem by all who knew him. We mourn his loss and we thank Thee for the excellencies which marked his life and character. Grant Thy comforting grace to the sorrowing family and sustain them in this time of their bereavement. Help us all to realize the uncertainty and the brevity of life, and may we so order our conduct that whenever Thou shall call us hence, we may be ready to go, not with fear and trembling, but with perfect hope and trust.

We pray in the name of our Lord and Saviour, Jesus Christ. Amen.

RESOLUTION ON THE DEATH OF HONORABLE NORMAN A. WHITTEN.

Mr. HARRIS offered the following resolution, which was twice read:

Whereas, On March seventeenth, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-two, the Creator called from among us the Hon. Norman A. Whitten, Senator from the Forty-fifth District of Pennsylvania; and

Whereas, The Senate of Pennsylvania, deeply conscious of the loss it has sustained by the untimely death of this colleague, desires to permanently express its high regard for his sterling personal character and public worth; and

Whereas, Our finite minds cannot grasp the Divine plan through whose immutable decree this ennobling and useful life has been snuffed out at the very threshold of a career which promised much for constructive service to State and Nation, we nevertheless recognize the wisdom of Almighty God as Supreme and unerring, and bow to His irrevocable will; and

Whereas, We shall miss the far-visioned counsel, the kindly word of advice, the sympathetic encouragement and the whole souled interest which our departed brother manifested even in the minor affairs with which we were concerned, as well as in the larger and more important matters of statescraft; and

Whereas, In his death the State of Pennsylvania and the constituency which he was chosen to represent, are irreparably deprived of his great talents, and a legion of personal friends who knew the warm touch of his genial nature, suffer a grief as poignant as that which the severing of ties of blood and kinship imposes; now therefore be it

Resolved, That in the passing of Norman A. Whitten, the people of the Keystone State lose a fearless advocate of their rights, a champion of justice and equality, a courageous defended, and a mentor who could ever be depended upon to lead the way into paths of right thinking and right action; and the poor and needy, the weak and the oppressed, a generous almoner; and be it further

Resolved, That the Senate of Pennsylvania, expressing the genuine sorrow of his colleagues, order a copy of this resolution to be duly inscribed in its imperishable records, and another property engrossed to be sent to the bereaved family, as a token of our condolence, our esteem and our heartfelt sympathy.

John P. Harris.
James B. Weaver.
W. D. Mansfield.
M. G. Leslie.
Wilson S. McClintock.
Morris Einstein.
C. W. Barr.
Samuel Salus.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, We are met this afternoon to pay the Senate's last respect to the memory of one of a former member, the Hon Norman A. Whitten of Allegheny County. He was a lovable, clean living man, who served his day and generation to the best of his ability. He not only gave service in the House of Representatives in 1915 but as a senator in the General Assembly of Pennsylvania in 1917-1919 and 1921.

In years agone he served 13 years in Council, a mark of respect in itself on the part of his fellow townsmen of no mean proportion—There he was Known best and was highly respected. He was affable in manner and friendliness was an outstanding characteristic.

From the time he was stricken by the fatal illness, until his friends tenderly bore his body to its windowless place of rest—the very deepest and sincere sorrow was manifest among his political, social, fraternal and business associates. In politics he belonged to what is referred to as the "old guard" in Republicanism. He could hold on opposite view and still remain the likable Whitten—always the same—never hurried—never bitter

He had that indefinable quality that characterizes the gentleman of breeding. Indeed he was proud of his heritage. He took great pleasure in conversation in tracing his ancestry back to those who are registered among England's best people—He never talked of it in a boastful manner; that was not his way; but in the satisfied consciousness that comes to those who are fortunate enough to have had ancestors who stood for—worked for and fought for the Ideals and Purposes of life—which make our civilization posible today. Socially and fraternally Senator Whitten was a great favorite. His home life was indicative of all that is best in American manhood. He was justly proud of his soldier son, a captain in the infantry in the A. E. F.—I remember how his eyes sparkled when he told me his boy's service and who is still in service, being on detached duty in Europe, which accounts for his absence here today. Norman Whitten was born in Pittsburgh in 1868, where he who often accompanied him to Harrisburg—together with his bereaved wife—who watched over and cared so tenderly for her husband during his long illness. Mrs. Whitten is absent due to the fact that she feels her loss so keenly that she did not think herself physically able to stand the long trip from her home and as it were, to stand again at the bier of him with whom she had lived so long and happily. Norman Whitten was born in Pittsburgh in 1868, where he was reared and educated in the public schools and the University of Pittsburgh,

His work for years was in a responsible position with the R. W. Hunt Co; the well known engineering firm, whose solicitude for the comfort and care of their associate was, to my mind, a tribute of marked friendship and regard in which his firm held him. He died at 54 years of age. His comparative youth brings to my mind the words of one of America's greatest speakers: "He had reached that place in life's highway—where manhood's morn had passed its noon and the shadows were falling toward the west.

"Becoming weary for a moment and using his burden for a pillow—he fell into the dreamless sleep that kisses down his eye lids still". He was indeed young—only 54—calls to mind that "no matter whether we are in love with life and every moment is jewelled with a joy—whether we are in mid-ocean or on the breakers of the farther shore—a wreck must mark at last the end of each and all. But in every night of death hope sees a star and listening love can hear the rustle of a wing."

The Star of Bethlehem and the Angel at the tomb of Christ give promise of a truer—happier—better life—where those whom Senator Whitten left behind to mourn him—have the promise and the hope that they will meet him some sweet day by and by.

God's reason for taking away a loving husband and father an affable neighbor and friend, in the prime of his manhood, is hard for us to understand—but we hold dear the memory that he believed that:

"Kind hearts are more than coronets,
And simple faith than woman blood"—

He walked steadily on and in a pathway made beautiful by the flowers which sprang from his own good deeds today we pluck the choicest flowers from life's pathway. We weave them into a wreath of loving memory and lay them on the grave of him whose life is ended. May God rest the Soul of Norman Whitten.

Mr. EINSTEIN. Mr. President and gentlemen of the Senate, it was my pleasure to be a member of the Senate with Norman Whitten in the years 1921 and 1923, and during that time I never knew a man that was as ready to assist a brother Senator as Norman Whitten. He was always prepared to help, whether it was in committee or in the Senate and up until the time of his last illness he came to this Senate Chamber with his good wife. He did not wish to neglect his duty and during the time that he attended thos meetings he was always ready to say to his wife "You will wait for me, so we will go down to the hotel together," He was always ready to consider his wife. He did not wish to be a hardship on her. He was always ready to go but during his last illness it was too much. He came here the last session of the Senate practically in an ambulance, he did not wish to neglect his duty and all that time that Senator Whitten was a member of this Senate there was never a word came out of his mouth that did not do every one of us good. In closing I only wish to say that Senator Whitten's memory will live with this Senate and with his good, dear wife and family for many, many years to come. The grass may wither, the flowers will fade, but Senator's Whitten's memory will be with us forever.

Mr. WEAVER. Mr. President, Members of the Senate, Ladies and Gentlemen:

"Oh! Why should the Spirit of Mortal be proud,
Like a swift-fleeting meteor, a fast-flying cloud?—
A flash of the lightning, a break of the wave
Man passes from life to his rest in the grave."

My experience in this Senate has only tended to intensify this sentiment which is naturally strong in my mind and heart. Of the fifty members who were here when I first entered in January, 1917, including one who came in since that time, thirteen have passed away. Two of these, United States Senator Crow and Senator Tompkins of Cambria County, were not members of this body at the time of their death. The youngest of the lot, Senator Charles J. Magee, brother of the present Mayor of Pittsburgh, was the first to die. Of the others, only three were really old men, Senators Martin, Catlin and Haldeman, the last named being a wonderfully well preserved man for one who had served in the War of the Rebellion. This is a remarkably high rate of mortality in such a small number.

Senator Whitten, in whose honor we meet to-day, the Senator from Susquehanna, Mr. Jones and myself were all members of the House in the Session of 1915, and all three of us came over here at the same time. In this way, I came to know him unusually well, and to be greatly attached to him. The fact is that our association in the House created an extra bond among the three of us, and we came over calling each other, much of the time, by our first names. Indeed, I always appreciate my good old-fashioned name Jim more than any mere title.

Coming from some persons, it seems to carry an effectionate regade with it. So Norman, who is gone, and Jim, who stil remains, were fast friends. He was sorely afflicted during the Session of 1921, and was here rarely, and then only with great suffering and inconvenience to himself. In spite of this, he tried to be cheerful and uncomplaining.

He was naturally retiring and never disposed to seek the glare of the lime light. He had a liberal education, secured partly in school and partly in the really greater university of experience. He was not disposed to talk much, but he was a good thinker. And my observation has long since led me to believe that the ability to think accurately and self-reliantly is much rarer than the mere power to talk. The greatest legal mind, perhaps, in the Protestant ministry of the last fifty years, once said, "It is an exceedingly dangerous thing for a person to set his mouth going, and then to go away and leave it".

He was kind and considerate in his treatment of his fellow men. He was, indeed, a real gentleman—a Christian gentleman. Some one has defined a "gentleman" as "one who always acts with solicitude for the rights and feelings of others".

He was peaceable and kindly. As I observed him, he seemed to have heard that song of Peace on Earth! Good Will to Men!, ringing down through the ages. I know they have also changed the rendering of the Angles' song of that Holy Night. It suits me better the old way.

In these times, it strikes me rather forcibly that some of the loudest advocates for our participation in a League of Nations, committing us to a policy of policing the entire world, appear to take real delight in making disturbance, turmoil and warfare here at home; apparently failing to see that the unkind, the unjust, the unfair man is the same the world over.

On several occasions lately, in a half reverie, I have for the moment failed to recollect that some of my friends were not here any more, but had passed over the Great Divide. In one of these moments lately, I turned my eyes toward our departed friend's desk here, and just for an instant felt I saw him sitting in his place. Perhaps he is there at times, if I could only see him.

In any event, as to him who has gone, and as to us who will go a little later, I do not feel as I once did or even as that ancient melancholy Persian poet and philosopher, Omar Khayyam, expressed it:

"We sojourn here for one short day or two
And all the gain we get is grief and woe;
And then leaving life's problems all unsolved,
And harrassed by regrets, we have to go."

No, I am thankful that in some fair measure I am able to appropriate and accept for my own that gloriously hopeful sentiment, so beautifully expressed by a sweet and gentle soul who has now also passed into the "Beyond"

"It seemeth such a little way to me
Across to that strange country—the Beyond
And yet not strange, for it has grown to be
The home of those of whom I am so fond,
They make it seem familiar and most dear,
As journeying friends bring distant regions near.

x x x

I never stand above a bier and see
The seal of death set on some well-loved face
But what I think, "One more to welcome me
When I shall cross the intervening space
Between this land and that one 'over there';
One more to make the strange Beyond seem fair."

Mr. SALUS. Mr. President and gentlemen of the Senate, if I would say nothing more than that I approve the sentiments expressed in the resolution presented on behalf of the late Senator to-day, I think that I would have said sufficient to cover the entire memorial services, because I believe those resolutions cover all the good traits of the Senator and are expressed so well that there could hardly be any improvement on them. However, occassions like this do come and must come and when they come they have their effect. In the hurly-burly hustling every day life of our American people we are likely to forget all our friends and companions and then on one occasion like this, memorial services such as these, we stop, look and listen, and begin to feel that the material things in life are not everything, that we owe something to the memories of our fellow-men and also something to the opportunities that are offered us in the laws of this great Commonwealth and Government of ours. I oft-times wonder if, instead of calling this great Government the United States of America, it would be well not to change it to the "United States of Opportunity", because it is certainly a "United States of Opportunity". And in the life of the late Senator Norman Whitten we can see what opportunity means. He was a young man in his community and grew, as I think, to a position and a standing that it is well or would be well for any young man to emulate. He rose here in this great State of ours,—and the same opportunity exists in other states,— to a position in which the ordinary man in other countries could not rise and these positions are obtained by men such as Senator Whitten in this country of ours because of the fact that our neighbors and friends believe in us. I think men hold position and public positions in life not by favor, not by luck, but by their own self-worth, and that applies more particularly to men who hold lesser positions than those who hold higher positions in public life. A man coming, as Senator Whitten did, from a Senatorial District, where he had been called, prior to his election to the Senate, to other positions of public trust, must certainly have been a man of standing in his community, and therefore had the good will of his people and having had that good will he was sent to this body to represent them. How well he represented them is well known to all the men of this Senate. He was a devoted Pennsylvanian, he loved its people, but my recollection goes back to him and in that recollection I remember how fondly he spoke of the people of his immediate locality, particularly the County of Allegheny. He always spoke of it as the "State of Allegheny." In his belief that county in itself was even greater than the great metropolis of New York. He loved that county, he loved its people and he was convinced that its opportunities in every direction were so wonderful that they even outshone the great metropolis of New York. Those of us who knew him here, knew the man by his kindliness, his friendliness, and his willingness at all times to serve those whom he knew. No one ever knew him to be angry. At all times he had the hand of welcome out and the desire was to help his fellow man. His memory will not pass away. He has crossed the river of life to the great beyond but the memory of Norman Whitten will be near and dear to us as long as our memory remains with us who knew him.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

Mr. GOLDER. Mr. Speaker, I object.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker, I object.

The SPEAKER. The Chair hears objection.

Mr. GOLDER. Mr. Speaker, I have just been advised that there has been an agreement entered into between the opponents and the proponents of this bill, to the effect that there was to be no objection to reading it for the first time as it was to be re-referred to the Committee on Law and Order. I, therefore, desire to withdraw my objections.

Mr. DAVID J. JONES. Mr. Speaker, the purpose of asking the consent of the House to have the bill read for the first time is so that it may be referred back immediately to the Committee on Law and Order for the purpose of a hearing, which hearing has been called. That is the only reason for asking that you do not object to the first reading this morning, that it may go back immediately to the Committee on Law and Order.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, the reason I object to this is because this bill has not been in this House for 12 hours. It is reported to the Committee on Law and Order and in five minutes this morning it is reported out. This bill is too vitally important to be passed in this haste, and I object to its being read the first time.

RESOLUTION RELATIVE TO RECESS OF GENERAL ASSEMBLY

Mr. McVICAR offered the following resolution which was twice read:

In the House of Representatives, May 22, 1923.

Resolved (if the Senate concur), That a committee consisting of three members of the House, who shall be appointed by the Speaker and three members of the Senate, who shall be appointed by the President pro tempore, shall constitute a committee to consider the advisability of adjourning the General Assembly over the week beginning May twenty-eighth, said committee to submit a report of its recommendations in the form of a resolution.

On the question,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

Mr. McVICAR. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, this resolution relates to a recess over next week. Wednesday of next week as we all know, is Memorial Day, and I understand that a large number of the members desire to be at their homes on that day. Also a large number feel that it would entail an unnecessary expense and a loss of time to come here for Monday evening and a part of Tuesday. In order to have this matter investigated, this resolution is offered so that the Committee of the House and Senate may make a report.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, there are a number of members in this House who have been here continually during this whole session. We go home for the week-end and come back at the beginning of the week without consulting their desires. It seems to me that before we vote upon this resolution, we should have some expression from those members who are kept here in that way. I would like to hear their expression on this before we vote on this bill.

Mr. OGLE. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I hope this resolution will not prevail. It is in line with the dilatory tactics practiced by this House during the entire session. I left my home at the beginning of the session and have remained here continuously, ready to do business every day of the week, and now to have this adjournment come in here that will necessitate the House remaining in session until, or beyond, the middle of June, I consider an outrage upon the members who are willing to attend to business here, and it is also an imposition upon the state. They want us to attend to our business here and get out of Harrisburg just as soon as possible. It has been said there is no necessity for this House to be here on Wednesday evening, or Thursday morning, but I say let us stay the whole day of Thursday and Friday, if necessary. Let us meet at ten o'clock in the morning, and meet at a reasonable hour in the afternoon, at five or six, and not have these wearisome midnight sessions a few days in the week and have that considered a week's work.

Mr. JOSEPH C. MARCUS. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, My personal opinion, and I hope that every member of this House will share it, is that this House should adopt the resolution of the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. McVicar. You have all been here working hard and conscientiously. I believe the absence of a week will refresh us all and give us an opportunity to come to many things that will reach a happy conclusion. I believe there are no dilatory tactics here and I think the suggestions of the gentleman from Somerset are out of order. There is no wish to avoid responsibility, and I ask the members of this House to support the resolution of the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. McVicar.

Mr. SPANGLER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the Chairman of the Committee on Rules.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. McVicar, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. McVICAR. Yes, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. SPANGLER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to ask the Chairman of the Committee on Rules whether in his mind he has any tentative date for the final adjournment of this legislature?

Mr. McVICAR. I do not, for as the gentleman knows the resolution adopted by this House, which fixed the date as May 31, was a Senate resolution sent over here and has been returned to the Senate. I have no other thought on the matter.

Mr. SPANGLER. In your opinion, if we take a recess for the week, will that postpone the final adjournment one additional week?

Mr. McVICAR. In my judgment, it would not. I am inclined to think that coming back here for Monday evening and a part of Tuesday, we would transact very little business and that it would not mean any additional delay in the session. The probability is that quite a number of members who live distant from Harrisburg will not come here for that length of time next week, and that quite a number of them will leave early on Tuesday, if they do come.

Mr. SPANGLER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, it seems to me that this Legislature has been in session long enough at the present time to have transacted adequately the business of the state. A number of the committees apparently have been moving in a circle and making very little progress toward a timely end. This House is now at the closing days, at least what we hope are the closing days, of the session. The calendar is not heavy. So far as the business now before the legislature is concerned it seems to me that we could adjourn in the course of two weeks, and some committee, I should say the Committee on Rules, should make a definite effort to bring the business of this House to a focus so that we can, in the course of a week or two, fix some date for final adjournment. The only question of importance before the House is the question of raising revenue, and we have been working on that for five months without having come to any conclusion. There is also the fixing up of appropriation bills and taking care of the code, none of which should require much time. It seems to me that the members of this House, including myself, are particularly anxious to get home at the earliest possible date.

Mr. GEORGE W. WILLIAMS. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, it occurs to me that until later in the week when we know something about of the size of the calendar we should not seriously consider taking a recess over next week. If we find on Wednesday the calendar is sufficiently large to need our atendance during the coming week, then I feel that we should come back, work Monday night, Tuesday morning, Tuesday afternoon and Tuesday evening, then recess over the balance of the week, and until that question is determined from the size of the calendar we should not take any action looking to a recess over all of next week.

Mr. DAVID FOWLER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I rise at this time to object to this resolution on this ground: In our district we have been fighting for mine cave legislation and the bills have passed the Senate and are now in the Committee on Mines and Mining. Last week we made an agreement with the Chairman of that Committee, the Governor, and myself, that we would let these bills in Committee for a week or so until we know what the program of the House will be. If this resolution were to go through I am afraid I would have to attempt to have the Committee meet to discharge these bills, or ask the House to place them upon the calendar. The assurance I want, of course, is whether there would be sufficient time before this House adjourned to put these bills before the House. If I could be assured that there would be sufficient time, I would have no objection.

Mr. DAVID J. JONES. Mr. Speaker, and members of the House, I believe we are losing sight of the purpose of the resolution offered by the gentleman from Allegheny. The purpose is that a Committee of the House and the Senate get together and consider the advisability of adjourning next week. It does not carry with it the proposition of adjourning, but merely to consider the advisability of that, therefore, we will get the opportunity to discuss that later. I think I come from one of the districts farthest from the capital, and remain over as many week-ends as any member, and personally, I think we could go home for that week and come back here refreshed in mind and body. I sincerely hope the motion will prevail.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, in answe rto the gentleman from Lawrence, even if this is only a resolution to appoint a committee to confer with a committee of the Senate if we pass this resolution, we practically say to the committee appointed from this House that we are in favor of this resolution and it is an authorization for them to so act for us in the Senate. I say the final action should be taken now. There are many members who never go home and I think we should stay. I am as tired of it as anyone, and I feel like my friend from York that we should get away from here as soon as possible, get back to where we can do something that will be of some good to us.

On the question recurring,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. ALEXANDER and Mr. SPANGLER and were as follows:

MOTION RELATIVE TO ORDER OF BILLS ON CALENDAR.

Mr. McVICAR. Mr. Speaker, I move that consideration of Appropriation Bills on third reading and final passage on Tuesday's and Wednesday's calendar of this week be postponed in favor of the other Bills on third reading and final passage.

Mr. GEORGE W. WILLIAMS. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. McVICAR. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, this motion provides that the ordinary bills on third reading and final passage shall be given a preference today and to-morrow over appropriation bills on third reading. The idea is to expedite the work of the House, because it takes a larger number of members present when contested bills are under consideration than it does with appropriations bills. The probability is that these appropriations bills could be considered on Thursday morning while the ordinary calendar of third reading bills and final passage bills could be considered today and tomorrow and it is thought that this would expedite the work of the House.

Mr. GOLDER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, if I thought that there was any set of bills on the calendar more important than the appropriations bills I would agree to this motion, but it seems to me that the most important bills that we have on the calendar are the appropriations bills and for that reason I trust that this motion will not carry.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

The SPEAKER declared the "noes" appear to have it.

Whereupon,

A division was called for, seventy members voting in the affirmative and seventy-seven in the negative and the question was determined in the negative and the motion was not agreed to.

RESOLUTION.

RELATIVE TO OBSERVANCE TO MEMORIAL DAY AT GETTYSBURG.

Mr. GROVER C. MYERS. offered the following resolution which was twice read, considered and adopted:

Whereas, the Honorable Gifford Pinchot, Governor of Pennsylvania, will deliver the Memorial Day oration on the historic battlefield of Gettysburg on Wednesday, May 30; and,

Whereas, there are buried at Gettysburg the bodies of brave soldiers who fought for the preservation of the Constitution of the United States; and,

Whereas, no other battlefield of the Civil War possesses for Pennsylvanians the same interest as that at Gettysburg, on which the backbone of insurgency was broken forever; therefore,

Be It Resolved, that it is the sense of the House of Representatives, Legislature of Pennsylvania, that insofar as possible the members of the House and Senate make an effort to attend the Memorial services at Gettysburg on next Memorial Day, May 30, 1923.

RESOLUTION

RELATIVE TO PRICE OF SUGAR.

Mr. BEHNEY offered the following resolution which was twice read and laid over under the rules:

In the House of Representatives, May 22, 1923.

Whereas, The present exorbitant price of sugar makes its purchase a hardship upon a great number of our citizens, and the continuation thereof will be of serious consequences to those who during the canning and preserving season invariably use large quantities of sugar in order to can and preserve vegetables and fruits for winter use and

Whereas, It is alleged that the said exorbitant price of sugar is the result of an artificial and unjustified increase brought about by speculative sales of sugar with no intention of actual deliveries, which sales however and the quotations thereof seemingly fix the price at which the dealer sells sugar to the consumer and

Whereas, This nefarious practice of gambling on the exchange in sugar which does not exist has grown to such stupendous proportions that during one month the sale of sugar on exchanges amounted to one million five hundred and fifteen thousand and fifty tons (1,515,050) while there were actual deliveries during the same month of only three hundred tons and

Whereas, This immoral gambling and unconscionable speculating by unscrupulous persons in an article of food vital to the physical well being of all people of the Commonwealth is without excuse or justification, is an assault upon the health and welfare of the American public, and should be prohibited, and,

Whereas, Proceedings instituted by the Attorney General of the United States for an injunction to restrain this practice have terminated adversely to the Government and an appeal has been taken to the Supreme Court of the United States and said court will be called upon to say whether under existing statutes the Government has the power to protect the public against sudden artificial fluctuations in the prices of necessaries of life directly occasioned by speculative operations on future exchanges and,

Whereas, It is the opinion of this General Assembly that the United States Government should have power to so protect the public if the said court should hold that such power does not now exist, therefor be it

Resolved (if the Senate concur) That the General Assembly hereby urges upon the Congress of the United States the necessity of enacting such legislation as will give to the Government of the United States the power to protect the public against similar unwarranted and unjustified increases in the prices of necessary food stuffs and to prevent the speculation therein that is alleged to cause the same and the General Assembly further requests the Senators and Representatives in said Congress to vote for and use their every effort and influence to bring about the final enactment of such legislation, and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be presented by the Secretary of the Commonwealth to the President of the Senate and the Speaker of the House of Representatives of the United States and to the Attorney General of the United States.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE.

Mr. SPANGLER. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. SPANGLER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, under my question of personal privilege I desire to interrogate the Chairman of the Committee on Appropriations.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Lycoming, Mr. Harer, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. HARER. Yes, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. SPANGLER. Mr. Speaker, there has been a great deal of newspaper criticism concerning the eastern and western penitentiaries. The information that we received from time to time indicates that there has not been a sufficient amount of money appropriated for the purpose of properly and humanely housing the prisoners in our penitentiaries. I wish to ask the Chairman of the Committee on Appropriations at this time whether extraordinary provision has been made by the committee, if he has that information to alleviate the unfortunate conditions that exist in these institutions at this time and to correct the same?

Mr. HARER. Mr. Speaker, in reply to this interrogation I want to say that we have for quite a long time been wrestling with this very problem. I do not believe anybody realizes more than the Appropriations Committee the needs of the Eastern penitentiary. The conditions down there have been told to me by Judge Monahan of Philadelphia and they would not bear repeating in this House. An effort is being made at the present time for immediate relief of these institutions. There are two plans under consideration at the present time. One is for a temporary farm over in New Cumberland and the other is for temporary relief at Rockview. This afternoon the committee is going to visit this farm to see if it is possible to use this proposition at New Cumberland. If it is not, it is going to be a recommendation of the Appropriation Committee to this House that immediate provisions be made to take care of the trouble in the Eastern penitentiary with a view of transferring at least 500 to 1000 prisoners in the Eastern penitentiary to a place where it is not so congested as at Philadelphia. We appreciate at the present time the condition of affairs in Philadelphia and we are doing everything possible to try to remedy this matter.

Mr. SPANGLER. Mr. Speaker, this legislature is wasting a good deal of time on questions that are comparatively of little value. As I stated a few moments ago from all accounts the conditions in the Eastern penitentiary at this time are unpardonable. Whether or not the Appropriations Committee has definite information from the Department of Public Welfare touching this question, I am unable to say, but it seems to me it would be a very wise thing, while we are dawdling along with the time of this House, for us to consider this question of very prime importance, and after consultation with the Department of Public Welfare it is discovered that we need additional appropriations to fittingly house the inmates of these institutions, it seems to me that it should be a first lien upon the resources of this Commonwealth. In other words, our purely state institutions have a first demand before other questions are taken into consideration. I am speaking here not for the purpose of finding fault, but merely for the purpose of bringing to the attention of this House an imperative need that this legislature cannot afford to ignore, and which we should start an attempt to correct and rectify. I suppose that the Appropriations Committee has in a general sort of a way gone into this matter, but the question appears to be a serious one and should be given the most serious attention by the legislature, so that any wrong that exists in these institutions might be at least in a partial way corrected before we adjourn.

Mr. HARER. Mr. Speaker, I might say further to the gentleman from York that this is not a new question with the Appropriations Committee that they have wasted,—I don't say wasted, but used a great many days and nights in trying to solve this problem. This is one of the instances of the lump sum in the appropriation bill. We took quite a while trying to arrive at a conclusion as to how this lump sum was made up, but I want to say for the benefit of the House that no provision was made in the general appropriation bill or the amount appropriated for capital outlay of $1,500,000.00. In this amount, the amount of $425,000.00 was laid out by the Department of Welfare for capital outlay. We know this amount will barely finish the cells started at Rockview. That does not offer very much relief, and it is for this reason that we are compelled from time to time to change the appropriations laid down in the budget and the only thing we ask of the House is that you bear with us, and stand behind us as often as we deem it neseccary to do so.

Mr. HEFFERNAN. Mr. Speaker, as Chairman of the subcommittee on penal institutions I would like to answer Mr. Spangler's question with reference to the Eastern penitentiary. The penal reform society of Pennsylvania, of which Dr. George W. Kirchway, is director, has held several meetings with the Appropriations sub-committee with regard to removing about 500 prisoners to a farm up here above Harrisburg. There have been consultations on this matter also with the Department of Public Welfare, in fact we have held meetings and this afternoon it has been decided that some definite action shall be taken and to that end the Committee will go to these various places and visit those farms and see if we cannot arrange for some immediate action so that the Eastern penitentiary can be relieved of about 500 of their prisoners. Several propositions have been made by the Penal Society of Philadelphia, and I feel that between now and the next few days we should arrive at some definite conclusion, and I feel that the House will be perfectly satisfied with what we do.

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. Speaker, on account of the importance of the question raised by the gentleman from York, Mr. Spangler, I would like to supplement the very full reply made by the Chairman of the Committee on Appropriations and by Doctor Heffernan, the chairman of the sub-committee. There are now pending before the legislature these various propositions. There is first the proposition to appropriate half a million dollars to complete 500 cells at Rockview. The money for carrying on the work is provided for in the appropriation bill. In the second place there is a bill pending in the Senate, which was introduced by Senator Sones at the request of the Appropriations Committee, which appropriates $100,000.00 for temporary barracks at Rockview, with the final intention of providing within two or three months for the over-plus of prisoners at the various penal institutions in the state. In the third place there is in this House a bill which passed the Senate which will allow the transfer of the surplus prisoners to the Holmesburg county prison in Philadelphia. In the fourth place there are a number of bills pending before the sub-committee which relate to the use of the New Cumberland farm for the purpose of establishing a state industrial farm a new feature of penal institutions, and the sub-committee plans to visit the New Cumberland site this afternoon for the purpose of reaching a conclusion on that subject. It seems to me clear that the first three propositions will certainly carry, and if there is money enough, the fourth one will also be started , and with the first three certainly the immediate need would be taken care of. And with the fourth proposition, if we could carry it out, would make a start along different line with a new institution to which first offenders could be taken, and taught a trade during their incarceration. I am making this explanation so that it may be understood by the members of the House that very careful thought has been given to this most important question.

Mr. McCAIG. Mr. Speaker and members of the House. I desire to say that the Chairman of the Appropriations Committee has stated the true facts so far as the committee is concerned in the getting of the money for these institutions. The Appropriations Committee at this time has recommended a sum of $450,000 for the completion of the tier now in course of construction at Rockview. I am reliably informed that it will take $690,000 to complete that. Inasmuch as the session will adjourn shortly, and we are allowing $450,000 I feel that this amount would almost be sufficient to build it, and that the next session of the Legislature will complete it. I was in consulation with the warden of the Western Penitentiary, and Mr. Francis also, who is superintendent of construction at Rockview, and I am informed that temporary buildings to house criminals, unless they are securely built, are not feasible. In talking of the farm proposition, they inform me that while it is all right, and it may work out all right, but those men confined in these institutions are criminals, many of them are desparate characters and during my conversation, as a member of the sub-committee in the Eastern Penitentiary, some of the guards are fearful for their positions, and many of them feel like resigning. So, I therefore feel, that we should build that which we have started and bring about a condition where we can house these men safely, and that there will not be any trouble with their getting away. Now, that is all right, but I feel we should try to keep within our revenue, and I have during my time in the committee voted along those lines, but here is a serious condition which we should meet, and I want to say to you, Mr. Mr. Speaker and ladies and gentlemen of the House, that this is a serious problem and should receive serious consideration. I feel that the money that is now available for this farm that is spoken of, and which the sub-committee will visit today, which is in the neighborhood of $133,000, lying in the Treasury at its disposal, they have an indebtedness of about $25,000, which must be paid for bills, the place could be put in shape. I feel that the money that it left there should be transferred to Rockview to help complete that which we have there, or to construct a temporary building there which is now properly policed and could take care of some few men from the Eastern Penitentiary. So far as taking care of from 500 to 1000, it is ridiculous to think of it. They do not have the room, but we could, by transferring this one hundred and some odd thousand dollars to Rockview, have a temporary steel building which could be constructed, and then at the completion of the plant at Rockview, could be used as one of the work shops.

My attention was called to a construction in the Western Penitentiary, after the outbreak down there and the riotous condition at the time the buildings were burned, they showed me a building there which could be used for the housing of probably 150 men, but when you talk of 500 to 1000 you might as well forget it. They cannot do it. They will do the best they can, and with less money than would go to a farm. I am on the sub-committee to go out and look at the farm, and shall give it careful consideration, but we have got these men where they will be under police supervision, and the public will be under police protection, and I feel that to transfer this money to Rockview is the proper thing.

REPORT OF FINANCES FURNISHED BY AUDITOR GENERAL.

The SPEAKER. The Chair lays before the House the report of the finances of the Commonwealth furnished by the Auditor General.

The report was read as follows:

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Office of Auditor General,
Harrisburg, May 21, 1923.

To the Members of the House of Representatives:—

In compliance with your request, I herewith transmit the information called for in the following resolution, passed by the House of Representatives on the 17th instant, to wit:

Resolved: That the Auditor General of this Commonwealth be requested to furnish to the House of Representatives not later than Tuesday, May 22nd, a report of the finances of the Commonwealth, showing the total estimated revenues for the biennium beginning June 1, 1923, and ending May 31, 1925, together with the total estimated expenditures for the same period, and statement showing the estimated appropriation liabilities which now confront the State; and that, as far as possible, the Auditor General be requested to furnish to the House of Representatives a statement of such appropriation liabilities which in his estimation could be lapsed without seriously impairing the credit or efficiency of the Commonwealth.

Respectfully yours,
S. S. LEWIS,
Auditor General.

"TOTAL ESTIMATED REVENUES FOR THE BIENNIUM BEGINNING JUNE 1, 1923 AND ENDING MAY 31, 1925".

In a letter under date of December 20, 1922, to Hon. William C. Sproul, then Governor of Pennsylvania, I estimated the revenues of the Commonwealth for the two fiscal years from December 1, 1922 to November 30, 1924 at $115,000,000.00 This estimate was, as stated in said letter, conservative. There is perhaps no accounting problem more difficult and hazardous than making an estimate of this kind, involving as it necessarily must a great multitude and variety of considerations and details.

The estimate now requested by your honorable body is for the biennium beginning June 1, 1923 and ending May 31, 1925.

Since the time of submitting the former estimate we have had additional experience and some new and controlling factors have entered the problem.

Exclusive of the anthracite coal tax, which is still in litigation, the collections for the first 5½ months of the present fiscal year, beginning December 1st, 1922 and reports thus far filed and examined are very gratifying, and if the increase shown in our more recent collection is maintained it will for the period mentioned in your resolution probably net the State approximately four million dollars in excess of the estimate made in December for the two fiscal year period referred to in the above letter, and will produce an approximate revenue of $119,000,000.00.

The most uncertain factor in his, as well as in our former estimate, is the resident transfer inheritance tax. The Act providing for this tax was approved May 24, 1921. Its full effect did not begin to show in the state revenues until the summer of 1922. Thus in December 1922 at the time of our former estimate we had practically less than a year's experience in the collection of this tax. Our records from December up to the present time taken in connection with prior figures disclose the trend of this tax with greater accuracy. Various legal questions which arose in the administration of the law have been definitely settled by the Courts; and if House Bill No. 1103, now in the Senate, becomes a law, which Bill is a proposed amendment to the resident transfer tax act of 1921 and provides more effectively machinery for the collection of the tax, there is no question that the amount above mentioned will be realized.

In arriving at this estimate we have given due consideration to the effect of Acts Nos. 40 and 42, recently signed by the Governor, which facilitate the collection of delinquent taxes and will unquestionably insure the prompt payment and collection of all corporation assessments.

I have reason to believe that if certain bills now pending in the Legislature are enacted into law, this estimate will be further increased.

These bills are—

House Bill No. 849 (now in the Senate) making bank taxes uniform on a four mill basis.

House Bill No. 1318 (now in the Senate) taxing the gross premiums of the Workmen's Insurance Fund, and House Bill No. 1256 (now in the Senate) amending the present gasoline tax act, which does not increase the rate of tax but broadens the definition of liquid fuels.

House Bill No. 926 (now in the House Committee on Ways and Means) amending the Gross Receipts Tax Act of June 1889 by enlarging the class of public utilities subject to the assessment.

"TOTAL ESTIMATED EXPENDITURES FOR THE BIENNIUM BEGINNING JUNE 1, 1923 AND ENDING MAY 31, 1925".

As must be clear to your honorable body, it is impossible for the Auditor General to submit any information with respect to estimated expenditures other than that based on a consideration of the Bills thus far sponsored by the Administration, and records of expenditures for the past two years.

As I understand, the Governor's Bill No. 81, known as the Budget or General Appropriation Bill, as originally introduced called for $72,024,615.00 with an additional requirement for common schools of $17,803,246.00 and Budget Bills No. 80 to 111, also favored by the Governor, carry the sum of $16,964,000.00, making total original budget requirements of $106,791,861.00.

In a letter to the Auditor General under date of April 24, 1923 the Governor stated he would recommend additional appropriations for universities over and above the above budget requirements of $911,000.00 thus making the total estimated recommendations of the Governor $107,702,861.00.

If to this total is added the judgment obtained against the Commonwealth by the City of Philadelphia in the amount of $650,000.00 and the General Deficiency Bill appropriations of $6,901,625.74 together with the other sundry deficiency requirements aggregating $915,537.38, and $807,336.75 for additional items specified in said letter of April 24, 1923 part of which has already been passed upon by the House and Senate, we will arrive at a grand total of $116,977,360.87 as the estimated expenditure for the biennium ending May 31, 1925. In the last mentioned total is included $3,250,000.00 the amount of money estimated to be expended in the construction and erection of the Delaware River Bridge during the next biennium.

The expenditures of the present biennium from June 1, 1921 to May 18, 1923 as shown by the records of the Auditor General's Department are $109,642,103.67. This leaves thirteen days of the present biennium to be estimated. For the corresponding thirteen day period for the year 1922 there was expended $1,506,266.01.

"A STATEMENT SHOWING THE ESTIMATED APPROPRIATION LIABILITIES WHICH NOW CONFRONT THE STATE."

In my report on the finances of the Commonwealth made to your honorable body at the convening of the present Session I stated that the appropriation liabilities on November 30, 1922 were $58,197,905.61. From that date until May 19, 1923 there has been paid out of the General Fund $28,763,484.94. It is estimated that an additional $2,000,000.00 will be paid between May 19, 1923 and the end of the biennium May 31, 1923. This will leave unlapsed appropriation liabilities of $27,434,420.67.

This liability will, without Legislative enactment, be further reduced on June 1, 1923 by $1,282,755.59. This item represents the aggregate of amounts that will remain unencumbered by contracts or otherwise as evidenced by letters on file in this Department from heads of departments, institutions, etc., and will automatically lapse.

This amount will still further be reduced by $642,143.29 by the passage of House Bill No. 698 now pending in the Senate, which represents the amount the Superintendent of Public Instruction stated before the House Committee on Appropriations can be lapsed from his appropriations without detriment to the Department.

With these reductions the total liabilities will be $25,509,521.79.

At this point it should be explained that approximately $5,000,000.00 of the Anthracite Coal Tax for the years 1921 and 1922 is held up as a result of litigation. This may well be considered as an offset to the estimated liabilities thus reducing the same to $20,509,521.79. On the other hand this item could be added to the $119,000,000.00 estimated revenues for the next biennium, thereby making the total revenues $124,000,000.00.

In this connection I might mention that in the appropriation liability of prior years, which is above estimated at $20,509,521.79 is an item of $577,123.12 for the Soldiers' Memorial Bridge, Harrisburg, which in all probability will not be used in the coming biennium.

"STATEMENT OF SUCH APPROPRIATION LIABILITIES WHICH COULD BE LAPSED WITHOUT SERIOUSLY IMPAIRING THE CREDIT OR EFFICIENCY OF THE COMMONWEALTH."

The following items may, in my judgment, be safely lapsed for the reasons stated.

$ 165,000.00	Appropriated by 1921 Legislature for truancy schools. This item is not in any wise encumbered and to my knowledge no move has been made contemplating any expenditure therefrom.
5,000.00	Appropriated by 1917 Legislature to the Commission for Compilation and publication of laws prior to 1815.
25,000.00	Appropriated by 1919 Legislature for the cooperation of the United States Government making a survey of the water supply. No appropriation having been made by the U. S. Government to meet this item I see no reason for continuing this appropriation.
145,307.65	Balance of $150,000, appropriation by the 1917 Legislature and reappropriated by 1919 Legislature for the erection of buildings at the State Insane Hospital, Warren, Pa. The building contemplated has never been contemplated has never been constructed and the appropriation is in no way encumbered.
70,565.68	Balance remaining from 1921 appropriation for the erection of Barracks at State Arsenal, Harrisburg. This I am advised is not encumbered and will not be used.

State Highway Appropriations.

481,269.62	Balance from appropriations of 1917 Legislature.
3,323,529.76	Balance from appropriations of 1919 Legislature.
7,266, 515.59	Balance from appropriations of 1921 Legislature.

The above amounts aggregating approximately eleven million dollars represent unexpended balances as show by the records of the Auditor General's office as of May 17th, 1923.

I find, after a careful analysis, that if this eleven million dollars is lapsed and the item of $980,000.00 for salaries and expenses, now in the General Appropriation Bill No. 81, is eliminated, the State will have for highway purposes during the next biennium more funds arising from the receipts of motor licenses and miscellaneous sources than have ever heretofore been available for a like period.

Exclusive of this $11,000,000.00 and the $980,000.00 referred to, there will be available for highway purposes during the next biennium $34,454,310.70 or approximately $4,500,000.00 more than was expended during the years 1919 and 1920 and approximately $7,000,000.00 more than was expended during the years 1921 and 1922. Of course, it is understood that this is exclusive of the Bond Fund which must necessarily be disregarded for comparative purposes.

These figures are based upon the records of the Highway Department and estimates of the probable motor license receipts recently furnished me by the Highway Commissioner.

I am advised by the Highway Commissioner that the estimated receipts for motor licenses for the years 1923 and 1924 will be $30,250,000.00 which is $2,400,000.00 in excess of the sum total of the appropriations made by the 1919 Legislature for highway purposes and the motor license receipts for the years 1919 and 1920.

To ascertain the correct amount available for highway purposes during the years 1923 and 1924 there should be added to the $30,250,000.00 the sum of $2,267,687.00 being the balance of unexpended motor receipts for the year 1922 and $1,536,623.39 the refunds from miscellaneous sources, thus making the total of $34,454,310.70.

If the Administration Bill recently passed by the House and Senate, and now waiting action by the Governor, providing for Registering Titles of Motor Vehicles becomes a law, the receipts from this source according to estimates furnished me by the Highway Department will further augment this amount approximately $2,000,000.00, thus making a grand total of receipts for highway purposes of $36,454,310.70.

In addition to being able to carry on the largest road program (exclusive of expenditures from the Road Bond Fund) that this State has ever conducted, this sum will at the same time permit the taking up of all Federal Aid allotments which will become due to the State of Pennsylvania during the next biennium, since I am advised by Thomas H. McDonald, Chief of the Bureau of Public Roads, United States Department of Agriculture, that the allotment due Pennsylvania July 1, 1924, approximately $3,000,000.00, will be available for expenditure by the State until June 30, 1926. The State's share to meet the above allotment, approximately $6,000,000.00, can, therefore, be deferred until that time without sacrificing any federal funds.

The records of the Auditor General's office show that the Legislatures of 1919 and 1921 appropriated a sum total $26,784,000.00 for highway purposes and the records of the Highway Departmtnt show that for these four years (1919, 1920, 1921 and 1922) the sum total of motor license receipts was $35,242,000.00 or a grand total of $62,000,000.00 This, together with the proceeds of the $50,000,000.00 road bond issue made a total of $112,000,000.00, of which $11,000,000.00 comprising the balances above mentioned has not been expended.

In the event that the proposed $50,000,000.00 Road Bond issue is approved by the people, the State should have available during the years 1923, 1924, 1925 and 1926 (exclusive of any General Fund Appropriations or State or Federal aid) approximately $115,250,000.00. The difference between this amount and the receipts from the anticipated Bond Issue, or $65,250,000.00, is made up from motor license receipts estimated by the Highway Department, and on the assumption that the receipts for the year 1926 will be the same as 1925; and the estimated receipts of $2,000.000.00 to be derived from the Bill providing for the Registering Titles to Motor Vehicles above mentioned.

I am advised by the Highway Commissioner, and I understand this is very conservative, that the estimated motor license receipts for

1923 will be	$14,750,000.00
1924 will be	15,500,000.00
1925 will be	16,500,000.00

It might be mentioned that the receipts from motor licenses for the year 1923 to May 17th, 1923 (5 1-2 months) is $12,811,586.67 as compared with total receipts for the entire year 1922 of $12,575,380.56.

Estimated revenue for biennium June 1, 1923, to May 31, 1925,	119,000,000.00
Estimated expenditures for biennium June 1, 1923 to May 31, 1925, including deficiencies for present biennium		$116,977,360.87
Appropriation Liabilities of prior Acts estimated as of June 1, 1923, ...		20,509,521.79

MEMORIAL SERVICES.

The SPEAKER. We are gathered here at this time to pay a tribute of respect to the memory of our colleagues who have gone on before, the Honorable Henry F. Miller, of Delaware County, the Honorable Samuel F. Whittaker of Chester County, the Honorable John M. Love and the Honorable Timothy J. McCarthy of Philadelphia, the Honorable Frank E. PRAYER.

The SPEAKER. The prayer will be offered by the Chaplain.

The CHAPLAIN, Rev. W. B. Cox, offered the following prayer:

Lord, Thou has been our dwelling-place in all generations; before the mountains were brought forth, wherever Thou hast formed the earth and the world, even, from everlasting to everlasting, Thou art God. O Lord, Thou are God and beside Thee there is none. We pause amidst this busy hour and we follow Thee in chastening spirit, and lift our hearts and voices in supplication to Thee in prayer at the opening of this memorial service. We would beseech Thee that Thou wouldst give to us an abiding sense of the solemnity of life and the uncertainty of death, for truly there is but a step between us and death and we pray Thee this hour as we pause here and as we think of those whom Thou hast called from our midst, from labor here to reward beyond, we cherish their genial smile, their hearty handclasp, and with an abiding appreciation of the contribution that they have made to the welfare and uplift of humanity. We thank Thee for all that was noble and pure and uplifting in their lives, and we pray that Thou wouldst pour out Thy spirit in comfort and in strength and in peace upon the hearts of those that love Thee most and best. We pray that Thou would guide us all through subsequent life and eventually, bring to Thee for Thy name's sake. Amen.

The SPEAKER. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Heffernan.

Mr. HEFFERNAN. Mr. Speaker, I offer the following resolution.

The resolution was read by the Clerk as follows:

Whereas, The Honorable Timothy J. McCarthy, a duly elected member of the House of Representatives of Pennsylvania from the Eighth Philadelphia District in the Session of 1921, died on the 7th day of April 1923, and

Whereas, during his private and public life he rendered service invaluable to his city and State as a faithful servant and legislator, and

Whereas, his death was most sad and has caused sincere and heartfelt sorrow, not alone to his friends and sympathetic neighbors, but as well to the honorable members of the Pennsylvania State Legislature who esteemed and respected him for his sterling qualities of manhood and loyalty to friends;

Therefore Be It Resolved, That by reason of his death the City of Philadelphia and his State have sustained a real heartfelt loss and recognizing his many qualities of true manhood and charity, his devotion to public duty, both City and State for many years, we take this method and occasion to publicly express our sincere and sorrowful regret,

And Be It Further Resolved, That the House of Representatives extend to his family a syampathy filled with deepest sincerity, praying Almighty God to bless and protect them throughout their lives, And Be It Further Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions, together with the action of this House of Representatives thereon, be duly expressed and attested and forwarded to his bereaved family.

On the question,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

It was adopted.

Mr. HEFFERNAN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, ladies and gentlemen, today we are here to pay our most sorrowful respects to men who were our former colleagues here in the House, and it is sad for me at this time to be compelled to relate to you that three or four of them have died during the past year, some under circumstances that strike deeply upon the chords of our hearts. A very important engagement is awaiting me now, as chairman of a sub-committee on institutions, and I will have to leave in a very few moments to go to a place near Carlisle; and therefore I shall but take up a few minutes of your time, dwelling upon one of the members of the House who died on the 7th of April, 1923. The gentleman to whom I refer is Timothy J. McCarthy. He was a man whom we all loved and respected in this House, especially because of his genial, light-hearted disposition. He wasn't a native of this great land of our. He was born in Ireland on the 14th of June, 1875. He was born there amid those sweet little shamrocks, within the echo of the sweet hills of Shannon, near where the rippling waters of the lakes of Killarney roll. And it was a sad departure for him, indeed, when at the age of eleven he was taken upon a boat and transported from that land of his nativity to a new and a brighter land. When he landed in the city of New York, little toddling Tim, as he was known, he little dreamed, as he looked toward heaven and his God, that the time would come in his life when he would be selected from among his nenghbors and his friends to represent them in two of the greatest law-making bodies in the United States. From 1911 until 1919, he represented his constituents in the Philadelphia Chamber of the city council and did his work honorably, ably, and well. And as a result of that work and that labor, appreciated by his constituents and by his friends, he was elevated by his people in his district and elected to a seat in the State Legislature of Pennsylvania, one of the greatest bodies in this whole universe.

It isn't necessary for me to go deeply into what death means. Speakers this afternoon will speak to you of that saving boy, that soldier and man as we knew him to be, Samuel A. Whittaker; and we loved him just as we loved Henry Miller and just as we loved Mr. Love. They were all dear to our hearts. The Legislature, the members of the House, both ladies and gentlemen, are like a great big family. We loved one another. We have our, oh call it what you may, our scraps, if you will, but there is not a man of the two hundred seven that goes out of that door at the end of a session with any feeling in his heart because another man disagreed with him; and I tell you that between the next two weeks or three weeks, if you were here, you would see a scene that will make your heart weary and sad, when the time comes when these two hundred seven men and women, distributed throughout the sixty-seven counties of the State of Pennsylvania will say goodby to each other and go on their respective ways to their homes with tears in their eyes at the parting. But that parting is not the parting and the sting that death brings, and I speak from experience only. On he 15th of May, 1922, I saw my only child, my only son, known to these members of the Legislature, a sweet boy of twenty-five, lowered into his last resting place. And so my heart is filled and I know how you feel. I know the nights, the long dreary nights they are, and the long dreary days they are, when you listen for the footsteps of that boy or that man or that son or that husband, or it may be a mother or it may be a daughter, but you are never to hear that voice again. Why? Because you have nothing whatever to do with his creation. God created him for his own use and benefit, and you have nothing to do with his going away. When that great omnipotent God, the ruler of all men, shall lay his hand upon the furrows of your brow, it is then that the hand of the Lord has touched you and He has said, "My child, you have been on earth as long as I desire you to be; I want you to come to me and rest close in my sacred heart." Oh, I could go on and talk to you, my friends, but I am not going to take up your time any longer. Just let me say to you from the bottom of my heart, because I feel within me a sort of an aggravating feeling; I feel just as though I am one of you; our sorrows are joined together, and just as we are here today at this moment, a great God is looking down upon us and He is blessing you, blessing you because you are remembering your dead, something that I regret to say, does not always take place in the lives of people. They are very quick to eulogize their dead, and they are very quick to forget their dead. You only have to visit the cemeteries to see the unknown graves and you might erect on their tombs there, these words: "Gone and forgotten." But this assemblage here today shows a different feeling, deeper atmosphere is this. Today you show by your presence that you have not forgotten your dead. God never intended that you should ever forget your dead. Your boy or your husband, in heaven where he now reigns, is looking down upon this sad scene and he is saying, "Mother," or "Father" don't ask me to come back; let me remain where I am happy in the comfort and the love of Jesus Christ."

The SPEAKER. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Alexander.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker, I offer the following resolution.

The resolution was read by the Clerk as follows:

Whereas, The Hoonorable Henry F. Miller, who was a member of the House of Representatives of Pennsylvania from the Second Legislative District of the County of Delaware, in the session of 1921, died on the 28th day of September 1922 and

Whereas, During his life he rendered to his Community, to his County and State important and valued service as a business man, a citizen and legislator, and

Whereas, His sad and unexpected death caused profound sorrow in the Community in which he lived and was a shock to his friends and neighbors and to his fellow members of the House of Representatives:

Therefore Be It Resolved, That in his death, his community, his county and his state have sustained a great loss, and that it is only fitting and proper that we recognize his abilities, his generosities, his service and hs devotion to the best interest of his county and State:

And Be It Further Resolved, That the House of Representatives extend to his family, its profound sympathy, and asks for them such consolation as comes only in times of bereavement from Him who doth all things well, and that we join with them in the satisfaction that springs from the knowledge of his rich personality and splendid achievements:

And It Be Further Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions, together with the action of this House thereon, be duly engrossed and attested and forwarded to his family.

H. H. HEPBURN
WALTER H. CRAIG
W. H. METCALF
WILLIAM C. ALEXANDER.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker, I move the adoption of these resolution and in doing so, I deem it a privilege to pay my tribute to the memory of a worthy man. Hon. Henry F. Miller was born in the city of New York on the 16th day of April, 1872. He was educated in the public schools of the city of New York and at the age of sixteen he entered the shipping business. He moved to the city of Philadelphia in 1910, and to Delaware County in 1911, where he at once became interested in the affairs of the county and especially in his township, the township of Upper Darby. His friends and neighbors well knowing his worth and appreciating his industry elected him in 1913 to the office of township commissioner of his township, to which office he was reelected in 1915 and again in 1919 for terms of four years each, and 1920 he was elected as a member of this House and again nominated in 1922. Before the election, however, on the 28th day of September, 1922, after a week's illness, he died.

He had just passed on life's highway the stone that marks the highest point; and being weary for a moment he lay down by the way side, and using his burden for a pillow fell into that dreamless sleep that kisses down his eyelids still.

This brave and tender man in every storm of life was oak and rock; but in the sunshine he was vine and flower. He sided with the weak, the poor and wronged, and lovingly gave alms. With loyal heart and with the purest hands he faithfully discharged all public trusts. The record of a generous life runs like a vine around the memory of our dead, and every sweet, unselfish act is now a perfumed flower.

I know how vain it is to gild a grief with words, and yet I wish to take from every grave its fear. Here in this world, where life and death are equal kings, all should be brave enough to meet what all the dead have met. From the wondrous tree of life the buds and blossoms fall with ripened fruit, and in the common bed of earth, patriarchs and babes sleep side by side.

It may be that death gives all there is of worth to life. If those we press within our arms could never die, perhaps love would wither from the earth. May be this common fate treads out the paths between our hearts of selfishness and hate, and, I had rather live and love where death is king, than have eternal life where love is not.

With Henry Miller immortality was the eternal consequence of his own act. He believed that every pure thought, every disinterested deed, hastens the harvest of universal good. This is a religion that enriches poverty; that enables us to bear the sorrows of the saddest life; that peoples even solitude with the happy millions yet to live. This is a religion born not of selfishness and fear, but of love, of gratitude and hope; a religion that digs wells to slake the thirst of others, and gladly bears the burden of the unborn.

He was a home builder. He believed in the family and the fireside, in the sacredness of the hearth. He was a believer in the religion of deeds, and his creed was to to good. No man has ever slept in death who nearer lived his creed.

His life was full of honor, of kindness and of helpful deeds. If there is another world, another life beyond the shore of this, if the great and good who died upon this orb are there, then the noblest and the best with eager hands have welcomed him, the equal in honor and generosity of any one that ever passed beyond the veil. There is no world in which Henry Miller will not be beloved and welcomed.

The SPEAKER. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Mathay.

Mr. MATHAY. Mr. Speaker, and Members of the House, Ladies and Gentlemen: This being the occasion of the memorial services held for the late Honorable Henry Miller and as one of his friends, although not a member of the last House and not living in Delaware County, I feel that I should arise and say a few words in appreciation of the man whose memory we are revereing today. Although my acquaintance does not date back as far as the gentleman who has spoken before me, yet I have known him for several years, associated with him in company with the host of his friends, and soon learned of his sterling qualities.

Before the primaries many a talk we had as to the candidates on the ticket, especially ourselves, as he was a candidate for the House from Delaware County, and I a candidate from Philadelphia County, and as our mutual interest was ersonal it became quite intense, and upon our both receiving the nominations, we looked forward with eager delight to the day when we both would serve together as members of this honorable body, but unfortunately due to the untimely death of my friend, he was deprived of his most cherished desire.

Mr. Speaker, just a few remarks as to the man himself.

Henry Miller was a gentleman, both in disposition and manner, temperate in his habits, slow to anger, tolerant in thought, kind and big at heart, charitable without ostentation and sympathetic at all times.

He was a home man, a man who loved his home and family as well as the community in which he lived, and who loved his neighbors and was respected by them. He was a man who found pride in the uplift of his community always a booster and in the fore of every movement tending to look to the comfort, welfare and happiness of his friends, in short, he stood ready at all times to give his best at many times at a personal sacrifice to bring a little more sunshine into the homes of his neighbors and make his community a better place to live in. So Mr. Speaker and members of the House, you can readily see and appreciate, that as one of his friends, that I am happy to have this privilege accorded me, and it is fitting for me at this time, in this humble way, to tell his friends here assembled what I thought of the man.

The greatest heritage a man can leave after him, is the living and everlasting monument he builds for himself, with character as the foundation stone and reputation as the lone column placed thereon, and to thereafter stand forth as a beacon for others to guide their actions by, and try to emulate. Character is what we are. Reputation is what others think of us. They are marks that leave indelible impress upon the minds and memories of men.

Henry Miller led a simple, sincere and beautiful life, dedicated to the happiness of others, and of an unimpeachable good character, and today his friends are here to testify to his goodness and find pleasure in revereing his memory. He was one of Nature's noblemen and let us find inspiration in what has been here said, and let the memory of this occasion long linger in our minds.

The SPEAKER. The Chair recognizes Mr. William T. Ramsey.

Mr. RAMSEY. Mr. Speaker and members of the House of Representatives and friends, it seems to me that this House of Representatives just now is engaged in one of the most beautiful sentiments of the entire session, when the members of this House should pause during its busy days that their minds might dwell upon the life and character of those who have at one time occupied the position here as members is indeed, to my mind at least, a sentiment which, if that were all, would be wasted, but a sentiment in which we ourselves, the living, must surely find some inspiration. My mind has been running toward a sentiment which I find in the Book controlling the lives of the people and the laws of the land, where it says, "Oh death, where is thy sting, oh grave where is thy victory;" and it seems to me this afternoon, as I allow my mind to reflect upon the life and the character of Henry Miller, surely the grave had a victory, because Henry Miller lived so that when he was called, and at that time we believed, perhaps, that God had not let Henry Miller here long enough, that He had called the man before his work was finished; and yet it seems to me, my friends, as we dwell upon the life and character of this man, we can see that there is left to us the fullfilment of many of the things which Henry Miller had, perhaps, not finished. And it seems too, that the members of the House of Representatives should stop long enough to consider the lives of these men, and I believe that a great deal of the sting of death is relieved and there must be a place somewhere, where we know the souls of these men have gone. There must be joy not only in the hearts of their relatives and friends, which overcomes that sting of death but also with the men who knew them, when they dwell upon their lives and characters.

About Henry Miller much has been said, and since time does not permit, I canot relate all of the things which made Henry Miller a man. He was honest; he was sincere, he was upright; and it seems to me today that I can, in my vision, see back to the session of 1921, when Henry Miller sat in this seat, a comparative stranger to all he members of the House, when he was sworn into membership. It seems to me that I can see as time rolled by during that session, the men as they assed the desk of Henry Miller and I remember the feeling that I had when I first grasped his hand, realizing that there stood before me a man. And so today I am proud that I can not only speak of Henry Miller and the character that he had and that I too, today, can catch some inspiration from his life. And it is well, Mr. Speaker and members of this House, that you should pause at this time and consider the character of these men. The family of Henry Miller, in his death, loses a good husband and father. The county of Delaware loses a good citizen and I lose a good friend. I am certain today that Henry Miller received a welcome into the bosom of His Father, and today sits upon the right hand of God, because he was a man.

On the question,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

It was adopted.

The SPEAKER. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Chester, Mr. Long.

Mr. LONG. Mr. Speaker ,I offer the following resolution.

The resolution was read by the Clerk as follows:

Whereas, it has leased Almighty God, on the second day of January, 1923, to call from his earthly labor to his heavenly rest the Honorable Samuel A. Whitaker, a member of the House of Representatives of Pennsylvania from the Second District, Chester County, and

Whereas, during his life he was an exemplar of fidelity in the service of our nation, our Commonwealth and his native town, as a commanding officer in the army of the United States engaged in the great World War, and in the National Guard of the Commonwealth during the Mexican trouble, as president of the Institute for Feeble-minded at Spring City, Pa., and as a member of the General Assembly in the sessions of 1913, 1915, 1921, 1923, and as a citizen and member of the bar of Chester and Philadelphia Counties, and

Whereas, through his manly character, his sound judgment, his courtesy, his fairness, his kindness and faithfulness to duty and right, the Honorable Samuel A. Whitaker became endeared and cherished by all those who were privileged to know him, and

Whereas, by his death, the nation, the State and his county and community sustained great irreparable loss,

Be it therefore Resolved, and it is hereby resolved, that the House of Representatives of Pennsylvania hereby express its profound regret for the passing of our esteemed collegue, Samuel A. Whitaker, late member of this body, and it extend hereby its sincere condolences to his bereaved family, and

Be it therefore further Resolved, that while the members of the General Assembly feel keenly the loss sustained, they desire to memorialize his great worth and character as a man ; his patriotism as a soldier, his ability, his integrity, sound and fair judgment as a legislator, and his courtesy, refinement and faithfulness toward all those with whom he became associated, and

Be it further Resolved, that a copy of thses resolutions, with the action of the House thereon, be transmitted to the family of the deceased, by the Chief Clerk of the House.

Philip Sterling.

On the question,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

It was adopted.

Mr. LONG. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, in arising to speak on this occasion, I desire to pay my respects to the Chairman, who has recognized me, to you, the ladies and gentlemen assembled here and especially to the dear mother of our beloved colleague and former Speaker, who has honored us by her presence here today.

On the morning of January 2nd, when we were called before the bar of this House to take the oath of office, preliminary to assuming our duties as members of the General Assembly, the absence of one who had been our leader, whose friendship had stood the test of three previous sessions was marked and commented upon.

In some way, naturally enough just from pure surmise, it was passed around among us and accepted as a fact that he had been called to the city of Philadelphia on urgent business. None of us even dreamed that he had been ill, and when a few hours later it was discovered that while we had been grasping each other's hands in renewed friendships, Captain Samuel A. Whitaker had passed away from us forever. We were overcome with grief and stunned by the suddeness of a death seemingly beyond belief.

While I look upon it as a great privilege and a distinct honor to be called upon to speak in loving memory of our former colleague, it has been left at my suggestion with a member of this House, who served with Captain Whitaker in many other sessions, to more fittingly pay tribute to his inestimable worth as o legislator in this great Commonwealth.

While coming from the same County as I do I did not inimately known Captain Whitaker until the Spring of 1920, but long before that I had admired him his splendid work, not only as a member of the Legislature, but in his profession as a lawyer in his connection with important interests in Chester County, and his sterling worth as a citizen. In the year in which we were closely acquainted, when for several months we sat side by side in this House I learned to fully appreciate the big heartedness of the man. I can say that in all that time I never once, even in casual conversation, heard him say ought but good of any man in this House. Where praise might not fittingly be given, criticism was withheld.

The personality of the man attracted me perhaps as much as his deeds. I never in all my experience saw personality of a higher or more lovable type. It was to Sam Whitaker we could go with our troubles and he would sympathize with us and laugh them away. To him we would go with our joys and he would rejoice with us.

A magnificent specimen of physical manhood, big of mind big of heart and charitable toward all, it seemed natural that he should have been a leader among men. And after the work of the day and the evening session, we would gather around him in the lobby of the House or the Hotel and he would go over with us all our problems, all our trials, no matter how long we might keep him from much needed rest.

Born February 15th, 1876, Captain Whitaker was just approaching the prime of a most useful life. Brilliantly educated at the University of Pennsylvania, he had practiced law with marked success before the Courts of Philadelphia since 1899. He was first elected as a member of the 1913 Assembly and served continuously during the sessions of 1915, and 1917, and then although renominated withdrew from the ticket so that he might be with his battery in France in the service of his country. He was returned to the House in 1921, and again in 1923.

No one will ever fully know of his aid to others. He took special interest in helping needy and deserving young men to obtain an education, and at the time of his death eight students in the higher institutions of learning were going through college on scholarships provided by him. Many persons had been placed in hospitals through his influence and by his personal charity.

No man was ever more unselfish; none more eager to assist others. His was a friendship that met you, not simply with a smile and a clasp of the hand, but with a feeling that gripped you through and through, and the duration of which was measured by the span of life alone.

The SPEAKER. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Philadelphia, the Hon. Philip Sterling.

Mr. STERLING. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, indelibly inscribed upon the pages of the history of the great and beautiful county of Chester, are the names of Abram Opden Graeff, immortalized by Whittier in his poem, 'The Pennsylvania Pilgrim", a member of the Pennsylvania Assembly of the Colonial period, Joseph Whitaker, who enlisted in Colonel Harcourt's Cavalry a regiment sent to America to suppress the rebellious colonists fighting in the army of Washington, one of the squad which captured General Charles Lee in New Jersey in 1776, and Samuel W. Pennypacker, historian, statesman, publicist, jurist, and governor of this great Commonwealth. To this ancestory was the late Samuel A. Whitaker at Phoenixville, February 15th, 1876.

In the public schools of that town he acquired his early education. His collegiate training began when in his sixteenth year, he entered the law school of that institution, graduating in 1899.

Though not a fighting man by nature, at this point in his life, like many of his ancestors, he answered the impulse of the call to arms. As a private, he enlisted in Company B, Sixth Pennsylvania Infantry, National Guards of Pennsylvania. Through untiring efforts and stubborn determination he gradually brought himself into a captaincy, in which command he served most honorably until his private practice demanded his retirement. This was but for a very brief period, for when the call of duty and service of country reached Whitaker again, his private affairs had no place in his consideration. Then came the trouble with Mexico. Immediately, he answered the call to assume command of Battery C, First Field Artillery, Pennsylvania National Guard. It was this outfit that he won fame and distinction on the Mexican Border in 1916. Under his command, through skilled direction and non the less by the forces of his charming personality, he brought to this battery the highest rating of any artillery battery on the border and in this State. With the entry of the United States into the World War, Captain Whitaker was assigned to the command of Battery C, 107th Field Artillery, 28th Division. After disembarkment, this unit under his able command went into seven weeks' intensive training at Camp De merion, and finally was distinguished by assignment, because of outstanding fitness, to the first offensive position at Fismette to Death Valley. The same battery, under his valiant leadership, went forward in the Argonne, where he acted as senior captain of the regiment and acting battalion commander.

Today, within the hall of this House, are fighting men, brave sons of Pennsylvania, natives of the county of Chester, who served with Captain Whitaker. I say "with" and not "under" him, because, though an official military rank he was their superior, in attitude to them and in consideration of them he was never superior to his men. It is said of him that he would never send his men into a position that he himself feared to take, and he advanced fearlessly and courageously into the range of the fiercest bombardment. Though probably not of the dominating, driving type of military leader so often accepted as the best standard of soldier, Captain Whitaker, through kindness, consideration and sympathy and clearness of thought and resoluteness of purpose in action, gained not only the admiration and respect of his men, but as well their soul-felt love and devotion. It was not alone the love of his men for him, but as well his love for them, his modesty and personal humbleness, that caused him time and again to refuse advancement to a majority rank, which was many times offered to him. He consistently refused this offer, with the statement that he did not care for the elevation if it required detachment from his battery. In action he was fearless but not reckless. He sought no glory at the erpense of lives of his men. It is said of him that time and again he would stand on a ridge, with field glasses set, smoking a cigar while shells burst near about him in every direction. He never flinched, commenting cooly to those about him in fashion such as "Isn't that a dandy, boys". "Isn't that a beauty."

Just as self sacrificing as he served his country and his state in war, just so did he in peace time serve his community at home and here in the House. As president of the board of trustees of the State Institution for Feeble Minded at Spring City, in which capacity he served from 1913 to 1916, he labored zealously; as school director, as one of the founders of the Phoenixville Free Library and as borough solicitor, he gave instintingly of his time, energy and thought.

In every charitable and civic movement of his community, he was a leader, and through his deliverate and careful action, notable results were always accomplished. Even to the time of his sudden death, he cultivated a personal interest in the cases of feeble minded children; he ministered counsel to their parents and family, making light, wherever possible, of the burdents of the afflicted, softening always to the utmost, the sting of their affliction. Captain Whitaker, in later years, shared generously of his time and energy with war veterans in the securing of pensions, compensation and vocational training and thus his memory was most fittingly and worthily perpetuated by his comrades in arms when the American Legion Post of Phoenirville came to be known as the Samuel A. Whitaker Post.

But we, of this House, who here sat with our departed colleague, can best and with fond but sad memory recall the force of his character, the strength of his decision, the confidence with which his opinion upon any question was accepted, the mild, mellow and modest of man that he was, and despite which he was able always, without aggression, to bring to accomplishment any undertaking. We know him to be always a man whose word and action was founded in truth and justice; we knew him for his fairness; we knew him for his love of right; we knew him for his magnificent poise and sound judgment; we knew him for his humbleness. Elected to this Assembly in 1913, he was returned in 1915. Nominated in 1917, he withdrew while serving over seas. He was again returned in 1921, and to this present session.

Those of us, in whose memory may yet be fresh the closing incidents of the session of 1921, will recall with what manliness, with what humility he accepted the high office of Speaker of the House. That occasion for one in such a position demanded clearness of thought, dignity of purpose and firmness of decision such as was possessed in no greater power than by the Honorable Samuel A Whitaker. He answered the call fearlessly, he served in that office even under those trying, if not distasteful circumstances with dignity, restoring order out of chaos, respect out of resentment.

Captain Whitaker's life will add another resplendent page to the enviable record of his family ancestry. He will take his place in the historic files of this great Commonwealth with soldiers of the past, with Meade, Reynolds, Hawkins, Gobin and Price and with such leaders of this Assembly as Packer, McCormick, Boyer, Walton and Aller.

He cherished his country, his State and native town. He was a slave to duty; his perfect response to duty is a true example of genuine American manhood, which should and will endure.

The sting of death is most bitter when it strikes, as it did Captain Whitaker, virtually in the springtime of his career, at the very pinnacle of his usefulness.

But life is a narrow vale between the cold and barren peaks of two eternities. We strive in vain to look beyond the heights. We cry aloud, and the only answer is the echo of one wailing cry. From the voiceless lips of the unreplying dead there comes no word. But, in the night of death, hope sees a star and listening love can hear the rustling of a wing.

We are told that once upon a time whilst the mighty Caesar was at supper, the discourse turned upon death as to which sort was best. "That," said he, "which is unexpected."

Captain Whitaker's death was not only unexpected, it was like a stunning blow struck out of the darkness, recovery from which comes, if ever, only after the passing of long hours, yea days.

With his mother, sister, his friends, and comrades, his townsmen, we truly sorrow, but not as those without hope, for as we view his life, his work, his sacrifice and his service, we may well recall these fitting lines:

"That which made these men and men like these cannot expire;
These shall resist the empire of decay,
When time is o'er and worlds have passed away.
Cold in the dust the perished heart may die
But that which warmed it once can never die."

The SPEAKER. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Millar.

Mr. MILLAR. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, in rising to present a resolution in memory of John M. Love, a member from the fifth Philadelphia district during the last session, I will let the brevity of my remaks reflect the sincerity of my sorrow. I did not know John M. Love in private life, and only had an opportunity of close association with him during the four months of the 1921 session. Like the men about whom you have heard before this afternoon, he was in the prime of life, having been born in Portland, Maine, on May 30, 1875. At the age of five his parents moved with him to the city of Philadelphia in this State, and in the public schools of Philadelphia county he received his education. After leaving school he became a plumber's apprentice, and he worked at his trade until October, 1910, when he entered business for himself under the partnership of Flinn & Love. For six years preceding his election as a member of this House he was chairman of the forty-eighth ward republican executive committee of the city of Philadelphia, and served in that capacity until his election to this House in 1920. The qualities which emphasized the characteristics of any man were reflected in full measure and with great intensity by the acts of John Love while he was heer. He was extremely loyal to his friends, straight forward and fair minded in dealing with matters which presented themselves at te last session, devoted to his duty and indefatigable in the work for his constituency while here. As I said before, I did not know him in private life, but I should imagine from his acts here that he was an ideal husband and father, a companion to his wife and the chum of his children, and from those who did know him more intimately than I, I have learned that that is the history of his home life. He served with credit to himself and benefit to his community, and his loss to his community and to this legislative body is overwhelming. After birth there is nothing in life more certain than death, and yet some times death comes and leaves us with a feeling of helpfulness and grief that causes confusion and anxiety. It was with that feeling of utter helplessness and great confusion that I and many other members of this House learned of the death of one whom we had learned to love while he worked here with us. Therefore, Mr. Speaker, I offer the following resolution and move its adoption.

The resolution was read as follows:

Whereas, It pleased Almighty God on June 15, 1921 to remove from this life, to his home above, the Honorable John M. Love who represented the 5th Philadelphia District in this House during the last session, and

Whereas, the community in which he lived has lost a valuable servant and the state an official devoted to its service and

Whereas, his death has caused deep and sincere sorrow, to all whose pleasure it was to know him, particularly to his legislative colleagues who, through close association, recognized his learning, ability and integrty as well as his loyalty to his friends,

Therefor Be It Resolved, that his death has inflicted an irreparable loss on the City of Philadelphia and this State and

Be It Further Resolved, that the House of Representatives extend to his family its deep and sincere sympathy and

Be It Further Resolved, that a copy of these Resolutions with a copy of the action of this House of Representatives thereon, be suitably engrossed and sent to his distressed family by the Chief Clerk.

On the question,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

It was adopted.

Mr. HORNE offered the following resolution, which was twice read by the Clerk, considered and unanimously adopted:

Whereas, The Creator in His wisdom saw fit to call Hon. Frank E. Korns, a member of the House of Represetnatives of Pennsylvania from the First District of Cambria County, session of 1923, to his final home on April thirteenth, 1923.

Whereas, his conduct in his community and as a member of this House commends him as a citizen of this State, and

Whereas, in his death his community, and the State sustained a great loss,

Be It Resolved, that the members of this House, hereby express their sincere sympathy and condolence to the family and friends of the late Frank E. Korns, and further to offer our consolation in their bereavement and loss.

Be It further Resolved, that a copy of these resolutions,, together with the action of the House be engrossed and attested by the Chief Clerk of the House and forwarded to the family.

J. ROSS HORNE.

Mr. HORNE. Mr. Speaker, Members of the House of Representatives, Ladies and Gentlemen: I am honored to speak in memory of the last Frank E. Korns of my city, one who was a friend and neighbor for many years. What I may say will not add to the glory of his life, nor can I detract from the sorrow of his loss.

The human mind may understand some of the phases of life, but death seals her avenues so that no traveler returns to disclose her mysteries. Have you seen the tender plant sprout forth from the ground, shoot into a stem, then bud, and blossom, and bloom, casting its sweet fragrance on the air to bless all who caught its scent? Have you seen its petals fall, then wither, and decay? Who of you saw the light of the early sun as its gray streaks shot across the eastern sky? Fast followed the tints of blue and violet and red, and then from a ball of flame flashed forth a flood of golden sunshine—filling the earth and heavens with warmth and light.

Have you seen the fading light of day as it quietly slipped behind the distant mountains to slumber as a day forgotten forever? The beauty of the flower lives on in other flowers; the scent of the rose may be distilled into a drop of attar, but is never lost. The day will recur, with a seeming new lustre, and the glorious sunshine although hidden in the forests, or in the color of the flower, or crowded under hills and mountains, will, as coal, or gas, or oil, give up its heat to glow and warm the earth even in a grander form than in the original rays of the sun.

God has hidden much from us! Who knows what light is, or how shall we explain what heat and cold are? Yet the bowels of the earth, are full of substances producing light and warmth. We do not fully understand gravity, or moisture, or the winds, or temperature and the seasons, but we do know they exist. We recognize the power behind the winds in the terror of the storm and blizzard; the pulse of the seas in its waves and billows; the force of the raindrop in the flood; the concentration of light in the blast of glycerine or dynamite.

Oh, those who recognize the forces of nature cannot but see the necessity for death, and realize that we lose our loved ones only for a while. Life is more than breath and the quick round of blood. Tis a great spirit and a busy heart. Death is but the close of a day; the setting of the sun; the closing of the petals of a flower. It is but the closing of a season; a transformation of sunshine into a form where it shall shine on in a finer flow. The associations of life make death sacred and beautiful, and those who would live most, must live the longest in the memory and lives of others after they are dead.

The great teacher taught us the immortality of action and thought of love. In our times of need we recall the counsel of Washington in his farewell address. When we look for leadership where so many seem to need a guiding hand, how we ponder on that giant of the frontier, Lincoln—so courageous yet so humble; forceful but patient. He seemed akin to the Christ. But these men are yet living most in a nation and the generations that follow them. Yes, they are not only guiding men and nations, but in a large degree are controlling them.

Ours is to live, and love, and strive, and hope, and advance.

Frank Korns is dead, but those who knew him well, love his memory as they loved him. He was one of those calm, devoted patriots who would offer all for home, or family, or nation, and he sacrificed, and strove, and gave to all these without a murmur. No man regrets having known Frank Korns, and it was a distinct honor to belong to his friend. He was an enemy of no man. Surely there is a heaven for such a kindly spirit. In his passing we can but accept the admonition of the poet:

"So live, that when thy summons comes to join,
The innumerable caravan, which moves
To that mysterious realm where each shall take
His chamber in the silent halls of death,
Then go not, like the quarry-slave at night,
Scourged to his dungeon, but sustained and soothed
By an unfaltering trust; approach thy grave,
Like one who wraps the drapery of his couch
About him and lies down to pleasant dreams
And with the morn those angle faces smile
Which I have loved long since and lost awhile."

The SPEAKER. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. McDermott.

Mr. McDERMOTT. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I was somewhat reluctant to go on the program, because I was somewhat doubtful of being able to pay due justice to the memory of my friend and colleague Frank B. Korns, of Cambria County, knowing him but a short time, only since the organization of this House. I first met him the night that we organized, and I want to say that I will always cherish that man. The greatest tribute that I can pay to him is to recite to you the inquiries that were made by the different members of this House after coming back from the funeral of my friend. As the membership came back and noticed his desk and chair draped in mourning, they were thunderstruck that a man, strong in stature as he was, was called away so suddenly, and there was no question about the friendships that he had made in this House. Every man appeared to be his friend, because he had a wonderful personality. I often envied him for his personality, his way of making friends, and also for the esteem in which he was held back in his home city in Johnstown. Being one of the committee appointed by the Speaker to attend his funeral, I remember hearing the pastor, in delivering the funeral sermon, pay a high tribute to our departed friend, Frank E. Korns. He said that Korns was most foremost in church work, even to the extent of neglecting his private work, even at one time during the campaign, when he was elected, to the extent of neglecting his campaign night after night. He devoted his time in raising funds and helping to establish a church in Johnstown. And also let me say a word as to the esteem in which he was held by his fellowmen in Johnstown. He was accorded the honor of being the second statesman to have their body laid at rest in the city hall at Johnstown. The only other member who was serving in a public capacity in Johnstown to have his body lie in state there was Lieutenant Governor Murphy, and I think the membership of this House missed the winning smile of that big, good-natured, Frank E. Korns; they miss his coming through that door; he always presaged a smile to his friends. They miss that man who always voted on all questions that came before this House, who always voted with an unselfish purpose and with the best of motives on all legislation that came before this Body.

The SPEAKER. The Chair recognizes the Hon. Franklin Spencer Edmonds.

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, ladies and gentlemen, this is the season of the year when, in accordance with the wide custom of our fathers for almost sixty years back, we have been called upon to commemorate the life and work of those who have passed on. It is a right and proper custom. To my mind there is no better test of the character of a nation than the reflect that it shows for the memory of its public servants. We in the United States expect that men who succeed in private life will give a certain portion of their time to public service, and never has that expectation in time of crisis or in ordinary times been disappointed. And while these admirable addresses have been delivered here this afternoon, it has come into my mind very strongly that ours is the only country on the face of the earth where you would expect to find successful men in business, successful merchants, successful professional men, men of affairs in their own particular line, giving up a certain portion of their time for the service of the state. Frank E. Korns represented the salesmen, the group of men that have made this country the greatest distributing agency for the world's goods today that can be found on the face of the globe.

Timothy J. McCarthy, not an American by birth, but an American by choice and selection and ideals, who developed eventually in his business until he became a faithful and efficient representative of the people.

Henry F. Miller, well acquainted with the conditions of urban life, and yet devoting himself to a surburban community, where he might enter into the life of the community and help those who needed help.

Samuel A. Whitaker, lawyer, soldier, cultured gentleman, distinguished son of a distinguished family, whose cousins for six generations back have served Pennsylvania and never lost faith in this Commonwealth.

John M. Love, another successful business man, who entered in the very beginning into politics, and fitted himself, first, by division representation for larger responsibility.

Mr. Speaker, it seems to me to be most commendable in our own country, that public service attracts men like these. There came into my mind this afternoon an incident that occured five years ago in France, when one of the colonels of the French Army, who had never been in this country, but a man who had two ancestors who had served with Rochambeau in our Revolutionary War, having been called upon to review large numbers of the American soldiers, raised the question with a group of Americans as to whether the men of our army were unusual men or average men. And when it was explained to him that they were average men, chosen by the operation of the draft, so that every home was represented, he made this comment; Said he, "It is my business to review soldiers, and as I walk down the line of review I try to glance into the eyes of every man, and I am asking myself continually this question; 'Is that man fitted for a higher command? Does he show by his manner, by his mien, by his alertness, by his intelligence, that if a responsibility should arise he could meet it?' " "Now," he said, "I have reviewed many thousand of our French soldiers and I know there are no braver men on the face of the earth; but I am obliged to say that, as I go down the line, I find only a small percentage that, in my judgment, will prove themselves to be fitted for a higher command: But," he said "When I walk down the line of these young American soldiers, so alert is their appearance, so intelligent is their look, so keen is their interest that I am obliged to say that practically all of them, if the responsibility came, could distinguish themselves in a higher capacity." And isn't that, my friends, the lesson that this country teaches? And when we honor representative men of this kind, are we not frankly honoring the country which, by its institutions and by its life, has given every one a chance to develop? And are we not honoring, also, this fundamental principle in American life, that" no man liveth unto himself", but no matter how successful he may be, either in business or professional life, when the call of the community comes, he must make a response.

Mr. Speaker, before I sit down, I should like to say a particular word to reference to my friend, the Hon., Thaddeus W. Harry, late representative from Chester County. It was not my privilege to have known Mr. Harry before the session of 1921, but we served together then. We served together upon committees; we discussed many of the matters that came before the House. Mr Harry did not often trouble the representatives in public debate but in the committee work and the quiet work, by far the most important work of the House, in that, he showed an efficiency, a clear-headedness, a good judgment and a good humor which made him a most valuable representative.. He truly belongs in this group of distinguished colleagues whom we honor today. And, Mr Speaker, on behalf of the representatives from Chester County and Philadelphia, I would like to offer this resolution, which, with your permission, I will read myself, as it is in my own handwriting:

Whereas, it has pleased Almighty God to remove from a life of usefulness and provity, our late colleague, Hon. Thaddeus W. Harry, Representative from Chester County in the session of 1921;

And Whereas, his service in this legislature as well as in other distinguished and useful walks in life was characterized with industry, sincerity, kindliness, common sense and patriotism;

Therefore, be it Resolved, That in his death his community has lost a faithful and efficient public servant, his neighbors a self-sacrificing and right-living friend, and his colleagues in this Legislature, one whose memory will be forever cherished as an example of fidelity, uprightness and fine Americanism;

Be it further resolved, That the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania tender to his bereaved family its profound and heartfelt sympathy in this sorrow, and its sincere and respectful congratulations upon the record of his life and the worth of his character, and

Be it further resolved, That a copy of this preamble and resolution be sent by the Chief Clerk to the members of his family.

William W. Long.
Martha Thomas.
Franklin Spencer Edmonds.

On the question,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

It was adopted.

The SPEAKER. The Chair recognizes the Hon. Fletcher W. Stites.

Mr. STITES. Mr. Speaker, ladies and gentlemen, the Senate of Pennsylvania feels honored today that one of its members is permitted the privilege of joining with you in your tribute of love and esteem for those of your number who have passed to the great beyond. I knew most of these men of whom you have spoken today by way of passing acquaintance, but some of them I knew very intimately. That brave soldier from Chester County, Captain Samuel Whitaker, was long my personal friend, and when the word came in the early days of this session that the Great Master of All Men had reached out his hand and touched the shoulder of our dear friend, there was some who said, "A brave soldier has fallen;" others, "A splendid statesman has gone to his reward;" but to you and me there came immediately the thought, "Dear old Sam Whitaker has left us forever." Life is an interesting thing. Some smiles, some tears, the dear affection of our families, the kindly regard of a few cherished friends, and then the passing into the dawn of a happier tomorrow. But as you and I look at the monuments that we erect to the great men of earth, we find that they invariably record, not what the dead have received, but what they have given; and Samuel A. Whitaker gave much to the world. I think I can best characterize him by simply saying that he was a generous, kindly, courteous gentleman. I knew him most intimately in the session of 1917 in this House, a session in which feeling ran high, and it was far easier to say the bitter and unkind things than to say the generous, kind things; but Samuel Whitaker was always courteous, kindly and gentlemanly in his bearing. It is an easy thing to be kind and courteous to one's friends, but how much more difficult it is to observe the same quality when dealing with those who are aligned against us in any particular activity of life.

I once said to Samuel Whitaker, "Sam, don't you ever get mad?" and he smiled back and he said, "yes, I sometimes feel out of patience, but the tongue is an unruly master, and I am afraid that if I get mad I will say something that afterwards I would give all the world to recall." You know there is a great deal of philosophy in that. Samuel Whitaker had that splendid quality of adopting the same standard in dealing with all men. We think of him today as we knew him when he was here among us, in a friendly way. I recall an interesting little incident with regard to him that illustrates the character of the man. It chanced that in the session of 1917, a bill had been introduced by Senator Vare of Philadelphia, relating to the correction of the narcotic evil. The bill was introduced in the Senate, and our good friend, Samuel Whitaker, had introduced a similar bill in the House. With that fine, splendid generosity which always characterized his treatment of young men, Senator Vare went to Mr. Whitaker and said to him, "Sam, you have introduced a bill on the same subject that relates to the bill I have in the Senate. Now, I would like you to have credit for it. You go ahead with your bill, and I will just keep my bill in committee." Whitaker turned to the senator from Philadelphia and said, "No, Senator, you come from a great community that is tremendously interested in this particular question. You take all the good features from my bill, if there are any good features in it, and put them into your bill, and we will have a bill in just the best form it should be in. " That was typical of the man. Just last year he called me on the telephone one day and asked me if I would come to his home town of Phoenixville, and speak at a community club in which he was very much interested, and I went up the next week. It happened to be a very severe night, with the rain falling heavily, and I had an automobile ride of perhaps an hour. After the evening was over he walked down the stairs with me, and as I got in the car and took the wheel, ready to go off into the night, he reached his hand in and he said to me, "you know I am not much for making long speeches, but I want you to know, old fellow," he said, "I want wou to know, old fellow, that I appreciate your coming up here;" and when I got the word on the 2nd of January that all by himself, he had heard the Master's call, I have thought a hundred times since that if I could have been near and patted him on the shoulder as he left this life and said, "Good-bye, old fellow," I'd give almost anything I have. Oh, the kindly associations that make up life. It is wonderful, and how often we forget the larger part and the kindlier hand of which Tennyson spoke. I picked up the newspaper the other day and it had in it some verses that presented to me a great lesson. It ran like this:

"Around the corner I have a friend
In this great city that has no end,
And the days go by and the weeks rush on
And before I know it, a year is gone,
And I never see my old friend's face,
For life is a swift and pressing race.
"He knows that I like him just as well
As in the days when I rang his bell,
And he rang mine; we were younger then,
But now we are busy, tired men
Tired of playing a foolish game,
Tired of trying to make a name.
" 'Tomorrow,' I say, 'I will call on Jim
Just to show him I am thinking of him;'
But tomorrow comes and tomorrow goes
And the distance between us grows and grows.
Around the corner, yet miles away—
'Here's a telegram, sir; Jim died today.' "
"And that's what we get and deserve in the end;
'Around the corner,' a vanished friend."

The life of Samuel Whitaker speaks to you and to me today and tells us, "Be more generous; be more kindly; think of the other man as you would like him to think of yourself, and accord to him that generosity, that courtesy and that kindliness which makes of life a beautiful thing." And if on this beautiful May afternoon we could stand in that beautiful Chester County that he loved so well and stand beside his grave, I know we should say,

"Green be the sod above thee,
Friend of my better days;
None knew thee but to love thee,
None named thee but to praise."

The SPEAKER. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Northampton, Mr. Sofflett.

Mr. STOFFLETT. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, death always brings to our attention the transitory nature of life. We must agree with Omar,

"This life is all a checkerboard of nights and days
Where destiny with men for figures plays,
And hither, thither, moves and mates and slays,
Then one by one back in the closet lays."

I have listened to the perfected flowers of eloquence that have been laid on the bier of our departed colleague. It is fitting for us to pause for a moment in the midst of our work to pay a tribute of reverence and respect to a departed soul, and we take up life's burden again and bear it to some journey's end where death unloads us.

I cannot say that I was intimately acquainted with our departed colleague. Nor does it matter in the presence of death and bereavement whether a transitory acquaintance formed in an atmosphere of politics ever ripens into the fruits and flowers of intimate friendship. No matter how close or how distant over relations as a member of this legislation body may be, we are bound together by a common interest and whenever on of our members goes on the long journey to that undiscovered country from whose bourne no traveler ever returns, grief settles over us like a dusty pall to numb our sensibilities and paralyze our activity.

Our departed member was frequently chosen by his fellowmen to represent them in the legislative councils of this great Commonwealth and it was here in the early days of 1917 that I first met him. The first impressions of him are still fragrant in my memory. Neither time nor adverse criticism nor political malice have ever been able to efface them or to change my high opinion of him as a man of unusual intellectual attainments, of sincere purpose of concurrence bills numbered and entitled as follows:

Now and then Father Time picks up the scythe to cut down those whom age and years have ripened for the harvest, but death does not always wait for the ripening fields. Ever and again he steps upon the very stage of human activities, he reaches out his bony hand and grasps an actor in the midst of his lines. How often is an honorable and useful career cut short in the very midst of its usefulness. Like a wreath of beautiful flowers, that which we once deeply love and fondly cherish lies dead and faded at our feet.

When Major Whitaker returned from the battle, he once more took up the burdens of civil and political life, once more chosen by his constitutents to represent them as a member of this body, and it was here in the performance of the duties of his office that death laid a sudden and unrelenting hand upon him.

On a New Year's night, cold, clear and flooded with star shine, in time of peace, when the spider had again spun his web over the cannon's mouth, when the musket was silent and the sword was rusting in its scabbard, he went in and laid himself down to sleep his last long sleep in that tent whose curtain never outward swings. Spring came again and has spread her mantle of green over the couch of his last resting place. We may raise a monument to mark the spot, we may write obituaries and deliver eulogies,

> "But neither storied urn or inanimated bust
> Can bring back to this cold lifeless clod its breath,
> Nor can honor provoke the silent dust
> Or flattery soothe the dull cold ear of death."

RECESS.

The SPEAKER. This concludes the exercises. If there are no objections the Chair will declare a recess until 8:30 o'clock tonight.

Whereupon, at 4:00 o'clock P. M., the House took a recess until 8:30 o'clock P. M.

AFTER RECESS.

The House reconvened at 8:30 o'clock P. M.

The SPEAKER (C. J. Goodnough), in the Chair.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative, and the amendments were concurred in.

Ordered, that the Clerk inform the Senate accordingly.

BILL PLACED ON THE CALENDAR.

Mr. FLYNN. Mr. Speaker, I move that House Bill No. 466, File folio 6073, entitled:

An Act to amend an act approved the first day of June one thousand eight hundred and eighty-nine (Pamphlet Laws four hundred and twenty) entitled "A further supplement to an act entitled 'An act to provide revenue by taxation approved the seventh day of June Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and seventy-nine" imposing a tax on individuals copartnerships corporations limited partnerships and joint-stock associations organized for or engaged in laundering and manufacturing be placed on the calendar notwithstanding the negative recommendation of the Committee on Ways and Means.

Mr. SPANGLER. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. FLYNN. At a meeting of members of the Ways and Means Committee of the House and leading members of the Senate tonight an understanding was reached that we would undertake to put through a program here tonight which would untangle a very much mixed situation in regard to raising revenue. In line with that program I am offering a motion to reconsider the action of the Ways and Means Committee in reporting this bill with a negative recommendation, it being part of the program agreed upon and it is my purpose following this motion to move to recommit the bill to the Committee on Ways and Means with the end in view of trying to reach some sort of a compromise which will mean a harmonious solution of the taxation problem which confronts this Assembly. Therefore, I ask the members of the House to support the motion just made.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

It was agreed to.

BILL RECOMMITED.

Mr. FLYNN. Mr. Speaker, I move that House Bill No. 466 be recommitted to the Committee on Ways and Means.

Mr. GEO. W. WILLIAMS. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

RECONSIDERATION OF VOTE.

Mr. GOLDER. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which House Bill No. 1041, file folio 7215, entitled:

> An Act to amend sections one and two of an act approved the twentieth day of May, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-one (Pamphlet Laws, one thousand twenty-one), entitled "An act imposing a State tax on gasoline, and on all other liquids containing any derivative of petroleum or natural gas, produced, prepared, or compounded or usable for the purpose of generating power by means of internal combustion and sold in this Commonwealth, except for the purpose of resale; providing for the collection of such tax and for the distribution and use of the revenues derived therefrom; making an appropriation; and fixing penalties;" by imposing an additional emergency tax for two years.

was defeated on final passage May 14, 1923 be reconsidered.

Mr. LONG. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. GOLDER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, this motion is part of the program which has been outlined for the solution of the tax problem. Voting to put this bill back on the calendar in no wise places us under obligation to vote for the same. Some of the members who attended the meeting are not entirely satisfied with the proposition that more taxes are needed. To place this bill upon the calendar together with another bill which it is intended to offer tonight will at least bring before the House some more or less definite cohesive program upon which we may work. For that reason I trust that those men who have been objecting to the proposition and are still objecting to the passing of taxation measures will vote to place the bill upon the calendar, because it in no ways obligates you to vote for it, but places us in a position to get a better prospective of the whole situation. I trust you will vote in favor of the motion.

Mr. RHODES. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, it seems to me that this bill having been disposed of once, it is the heighth of folly to put it back on the calendar. We have been doing this continuously this session, killing a bill one day and putting it back on the calendar the next. If we are going to vote on a proposition, let us do it finally and when it is defeated let it stay defeated. There is no use in this continual manipulation all the time.

Mr. GOLDER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, you may recall that in the discussion last Monday night a week ago it was suggested by some members who spoke on the general taxation program, and I recall that I myself suggested and made the observation that voting upon the bills at that time we could no vote upon each bill separately, that they were presented to us by the Ways and Means Committee as a program, and that those who were opposed to one part of the program would necessarily be opposed to the other part of the program. That was my thought at that time, and that is the reason that at that particular time I voted against the gasoline tax. It was one-third of a general program. That was the attitude I took, and I think the attitude of most of the members of the House at that time was the same. In voting to put the bill back at this time we vote to take a part of the program which cannot be made to stand by itself, but can be made part of another program. It cannot at this time be considered in the same light in which it was considered last Monday. It is a separate entity at this time and should be considered in a different light.

Mr. STERLING. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Golder.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Golder, permit himself to be interrogated.

Mr. GOLDER. Yes, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. STERLING. Is it the purpose of the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Golder, to make a motion that this bill be also recommitted to the Committee on Ways and Means?

Mr. GOLDER. No sir, it is my thought to place this bill on the postponed calendar. I might say that another bill which will be offered by another member of the House is a bill which places a tax upon manufacturers. It does so in a most decisive way. It places us under no obligation to vote for it, but it covers a subject matter which is covered in the Stark bill which has been recommitted. That bill will then be recommitted to the committee on Ways and Means where the whole subject matter can then be discussed. It is the intention to place this gasoline bill upon the postponed calendar. The other bill which will come in, will be submitted to the House and will be sent to the Ways and Means Committee and there it can be taken up at the same time with the Stark bill. The House of course will be given an opportunity to consider the Stark bill with the other bill.

Mr. ARMSTRONG. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I would just like to add a word to what the gentleman from Philadelphia has said. We are simply trying to arrange a program, or prepare a calendar, and we are asking nobody to bind themselves to vote for or against it. We want to clarify the situation which confronts us and I am sure that nobody is bound one way or another. We are simply asking that the bill be put on the calendar, so that we will have a working calendar before us.

Mr. SARIG. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, this House on Monday night a week ago put its stamp of disapproval on this bill so strongly that I cannot see any good reason why this bill should now be placed back on the calendar. I do not know just what the plans are but I think this House should not be asked to bring this bill back on the calendar. There is no good reason why this House after disapproving of this bill in the emphatic manner in which it has been disapproved, should now be asked to place this bill back on the calendar. I think if any revenues can be arranged and any other bills introduced they can be intdoduced and considered separate and apart from this bill. I think this is only a piece of camouflage to put this bill back on the calendar tonight. I ask you members in all fairness, if you were sincere in casting your vote against this bill a week ago Monday night, to vote against putting it back on the calendar now. I can see no good reason why this bill should be put back and the House deceived by such a move.

Mr. SPANGLER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, it appears to me that the tail wants to wag the dog in this instance. The opposition to this desired program seems to come entirely from the Democratic side of this House. Apparently the Democrats are opposed to any program that will bring this situation to a head and clarify it. As stated by the gentleman from Philadelphia, the purpose is merely to present to this House a concrete program of handling the revenues of the state so that the state can properly function. This, I think, is the first time that this House has seen its way clear to progress. We have for four or five months been going around in a circle. We have been getting nowhere, and we have an opportunity now to get somewhere and to place ourselves in a position where we can keep faith with the people of the state, and where we can, in the very near future, fix a date for final adjournment, and it seems to me that this proposition now proposed is a consummation entirely to be desired and to be approved this evening by this House.

Mr. GEORGE W. WILLIAMS. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, one week ago I voted against this bill, which is now under new consideration. I am now prepared to vote for it as a means to an end which we are all interested in solving, that is the financial problem of this state which confronts us at this time. We are all interested in having the Highway Department function and in having sufficient money to meet the school appropriations, in which the gentleman from Berks and the members from the rural communities are deeply interested. If by placing this bill on the postponed calendar we can use it to work out a solution of this problem, then I think every patriotic member of this legislature should get behind it and see if we cannot work something out of it that will solve this financial jam.

Mr. SARIG. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I think it comes with bad grace from the member from York to get up and make a partisan issue out of this matter. If I remember correctly it was the gentleman from York who made the motion to drop the Alexander bill from the calendar. Now, there is no more reason why this gasoline tax should prevail than the tobacco tax, which affected mainly York and Lancaster counties, and the only mistake made the other night when the gentleman from York moved that the Alexander bill be dropped from the calendar was that all the other tax measures were not thrown off at the same time. I think it comes with poor grace after the member from York has gotten up on this floor and made a motion to strike out the Alexander bill, or the tobacco tax bill, or luxury tax bill, or whatever you may call it, to cast it right out without even the ceremony of giving it a vote, without even giving the gentleman from Delaware the courtesy of having a vote taken on this bill. I think it comes with very poor grace for him to come here now and say that you gentlemen ought to vote for this gasoline tax. This gasoline tax goes back on the common people just as much as the tobacco tax, or the luxury tax, or the cigarette tax, or any other tax goes back to the common people. Now this House by an emphatic vote, went on record regarding this gasoline tax. This is not a partisan matter, it is simply a matter of raising revenue when the revenue is needed, where it entails the least amount of sacrifice. Only today, we had a statement from the Auditor General, but my friend from York wants to raise a partisan issue. I want to tell him that only today we had a statement from the Auditor General, read from the desk up there, in which he says that only $7,000,000 are needed for the next two years. Now if that is the case, if we only need $7,000,000 of revenue, then I say there are resources in Pennsylvania that are yet untouched, and there are places where we can put this burden without putting it where the burden already exists. We all know, as I have said before, and as you have heard time and time again, that in the rural districts, and you heard it this afternoon if you were at the public hearing of the Public Roads Committee, that there are more than 4,000 farms in the state of Pennsylvania that are abandoned because of the conditions that prevail in the rural districts, and this is only another case of throwing the burden back on the fellows which are already bearing more than their share of taxation in Pennsylvania. If we have come down to the figure of $7,000,000 that is needed for the next two years, I say to you that there are subjects that can better afford to bear this burden than the men who use the gasoline in the state of Pennsylvania. Two years ago we placed a tax on gasoline. The people have been paying that tax and are paying it now, but I feel that we should not place this additional burden on the men who are using gasoline in Pennsylvania, as there are other sources here that can easily take care of that increased tax. I repeat what I have said, that I think it comes with very poor grace from the gentleman from York to come here and advocate placing this bill back on the calendar when it was a part of the same general program of which the luxury tax bill was a part, and he himself made the motion on Monday night a week ago to strike it off the calendar and kick it out of the House without ceremony, not even giving the gentleman from Delaware the courtesy of having the vote taken on this bill.

Mr. SHAMBACH. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, it seems to me that a timely hour has struck, that the time has come when we can no longer fool ourselves as a body of legislators. The time is here when we must adjudicate this matter of taxation. I think the most untutored of us in the matter of taxation have sensed for a long time that the time has come when the people back home, and when the people in this House have decided in their minds that the best way to raise this tax is to spread it out and not tax any one particular thing to the limit, and I believe that we have agreed in our minds last Monday night, if I may term it such, this hornet's nest, that we had here, was all because we had not agreed and were not willing to spread this tax out proportionately, and for that reason I voted against the gasoline tax, and I would have voted against any tax measure presented, as the majority of us did.

We realize now that we must raise taxes, for if we do not our public school system is about to suffer, and we have only one other alternative, the tax must of necessity be raised back home. Which one of you has the courage to go back home and say, "We did not raise any taxes, now I guess we must raise them back home." I do not have the courage to go back home under the stress of matters and face the people and say, "We must raise the taxes at home". Can we not come to an understanding, or a compromise, and put these bills back in committee, and get a one cent tax, on gasoline and get a two mill manufacturers tax, and get a small tax on luxuries, tobacco, chewing gum, and jewelry, if necessary, and by spreading it out get a sufficient tax to meet public needs. I believe that we are at a point where we cannot put one tax bill through unless we have an understanding, a gentleman's agreement, in this House that we are willing to spread it out and then vote our revenue for the next biennial period.

I voice this for myself, that I am willing to vote for this tax, but I am not willing to put the tax all on one commodity. We are all of the same humor. Let us get down to business; let us quit fooling. Who wants an extra session? Not one of you can afford it. You are losing money every day you are here, every one of you. What is the use of kidding ourselves along any longer? Let's get down to business, and I appeal to you, ladies and gentlemen of this house, let us get down to the tax raising issue so that it can be properly spread out in proportion, and then let's go.

Mr. McCURDY. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, there seems to be a misunderstanding of the proposition that is brought up here for consideration of this body. The committeee assembled this evening, and last evening, labored diligently for the purpose of trying to bring about a solution that will solve the question confronting us today. We are all familiar with the fact that there is a large deficiency which must be met, and in order to do so we must look about for additional revenues. I voted against the gasoline tax because I thought it was unjust to place it upon a subject already taxed, but at this meeting it was agreed that the gasoline tax should be a companion bill to a bill that would raise the major portion of this tax. This fact is known to a great many members and those to whom it has been communicated have, in the majority, agreed that the proposition is a good one. It is what we call a give and take proposition. This does not place the entire tax on gasoline. It will place the tax on another bill which we are going to attempt to have introduced if this House will go along and will solve the problem. Then we can go home and assure the people that they will get their checks to meet their school appropriations, and also get the money due on public roads. I believe that if the members of the House will just be patient and not get all "het" up on this subject that we will arrive at an amicable solution of the problem confronting us tonight.

Mr. RHODES. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Golder.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. GOLDER. Yes, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. RHODES. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia tell us how he voted on this tax measure last week?

Mr. GOLDER. I voted against the gasoline tax last week for two reasons. First, I was not convinced at that time, any more than I am at this time, that taxation was at all necessary. I am not satisfied in my mind, at this time, that we need any tax. Secondly, I voted against the gasoline tax at that time because it was part of a program of which I did not approve. I was opposed to the luxury tax and I was opposed at that time to the surtax. The manner in which the program was submitted to the House by the Ways and Means Committee was so much the gasoline tax could raise, and the surtax could raise so much more money, and the luxury tax would raise so much more money that the tax from the three different tax bills, they figured, would be sufficient to tide us over the so-called deficit. Now, not being in favor of two of the three measures of the program, I felt it unfair that the House should pass one of the tax measures and defeat the other two, so that the entire tax burden would have to be borne by one set of people. I was opposed to the program at that time, and I am not at all certain in my own mind that I would vote for a gasoline tax tomorrow, but I am trying to be broad enough to see that even though I might be opposed to the gasoline tax today, that tomorrow it may be part of another program which is fair and equitable and that I would vote for it.

Mr. RHODES. Mr. Speaker and members of the House. If there ever was any uncertainty in our minds as to taxes not being necessary, it seems to me it has been dissipated today, therefore it seems to me to be the heighth of folly to place these bills so decisively defeated back on the calendar. We have, I presume, all read the statement of the Auditor General of this Commonwealth, who apparently knows something about the taxation problem and the finances of this state. Now, are we going to vote to repudiate this statement? Are we going to vote to sustain it, or are we going to say that he knows nothing about the finances of this Commonwealth? And according to his statements the deficit is only $7,000,000 at the maximum, and who will not say that that cannot be appropriated over a period of four years, and paid out in small sums throughout that period, and therefore eliminate the necessity of taxation. It seems to me that the Auditor General of this Commonwealth has said to us today that there is no necessity for new taxation or any new tax levies.

Mr. DAVID FOWLER. Mr. Speaker and ladies and gentlemen of the House, I also have voted against every tax measure due to the fact that the district I have represented, and am representing, has not received their pro rata share of the taxes paid to this state. Early in the session we voted in this House against the anthracite coal tax and by a vote of 147 it was carried in this House. Two years ago measures were passed in this House to give relief to the property owners and surrounding public wanting protection of life and limb in the anthracite coal fields. We have waited patiently for the last four or five months in this House to have passed a bill that will be a protection to the property owners and to the boys and girls who go to our schools. I feel after the conference we had, as I stated this morning, with the Governor of this state, and since he said to the representatives of Lackawanna and Luzerne counties, that if we could show whereby there was sufficient revenue, he was satisfied the mine cave proposition could be put through this House. I feel from the number of letters and telegrams that I have received from my constituents that it is now time for me to stand before this House and demand protection to life and limb in the anthracite coal fields. Our homes are being destroyed, our school houses are being destroyed, our churches are being destroyed, and you find some here who are standing up for the good old public, but every time the worker has asked for protection in this House we find they are lacking.

I want to say to you, my friends, that I was against the gasoline tax but I am for any proposition that will force the Governor of this state to release the mine cave bills out of this committee. I believe the anthracite coal tax is sufficient for us, for our people in the anthracite coal fields to receive protection to our homes. There is not a week that I go to my home but that I have to hire a carpenter to file down the doors before I can lock them. There is hardly a time that I can open a window, and only a few weeks ago children who were going home from school only escaped by 15 minutes. Only two years ago some of our little children were snuffed down into a mine. We talk about meritorious measures before this House, and we talk of our loyalty to the public and to the workers of the state. The time has come now when we of the anthracite coal fields are going to demand some recognition in this House. Why, we have to be afraid to go to bed at night because we don't know whether we are going to come out alive in the morning.

The Governor of this state, I believe, is sincere. I believe he is honest because when he made his campaign through the anthracite coal fields he pledged to the anthracite people that he was in favor of mine cave legislation. I have fought him on many occasions on this floor and fought him honestly, and I will fight him again if it becomes necessary. But due to the fact that he has made an agreement with the anthracite people and with the various organizations in the anthracite coal fields, and due to the fact that after we have passed in this House against the anthracite coal tax, and the Senate refused to act, I say to you that the time has come when a part of that must go back for the protection of life and property in our fields. Talk about gasoline in your automobiles! What has that got to do with the lives of thousands of citizens in this state. I say to you, if it is necessary to consider this measure let us send it back to the committee. Let us call in the powers that be in the state, let them meet with us, and I will assure you that unless a part goes back for the protection of life and limb of the anthracite people, and to protect our properties, I shall oppose it, as I have in the past, but since he has made the promise that he is putting the buck up to us people in the anthracite field, I want it placed back to see what is going to happen.

Ladies and gentlemen of the House, I am pleading in the interest of our people in the anthracite coal fields, and I am asking that a reconsideration be given. I do not know how many of these taxes I shall vote for, but I am for the proposition so far as I can face again the powers that be to satisfy my constituents at home.

Mr. STARK. Mr. Speaker, I move the previous question.

The motion was seconded by the following members: Messrs. Whitehouse, Gelder, Eaches, Hetrick, Hall Haslett, Diehm, Bidelspacher, Conner, Dunn, Edmonds, Fratt, Orr, Burd P. Evans, Lafferty, Weamer, Vickerman, McVicar, Horne, Ludlow, Howard Smith and others.

The SPEAKER. More than 20 members having joined in moving the previous question,

On the question,

Shall the main question now be put?

It was agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. Sarig and Mr. Zook were as follows:

BILL INTRODUCED AND REFERRED.

By Mr. ARMSTRONG. HOUSE BILL No. 1648.

An Act imposing an emergency profits tax for State purposes on the net earnings or income of corporations, joint-stock associations, limited partnerships and companies, incorporated, organized or doing business in this Commonwealth, excepting those now paying a State tax on gross receipts; providing for the collection of such tax; and prescribing penalties.

Referred to the Committee on Ways and Means.

BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE.

Agreeably to order,

The bill having been called up from the postponed calendar by Mr. Gibbon.

The House resumed the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 1392, (Senate Bill No. 600), entitled:

An Act to amend section one of the act approved the eighth day of June one thousand nine hundred and fifteen (Pamphlet Laws nine hundred and fifteen) entitled "An act to fix the salaries of the deputies in the offices of the clerk of the courts county controller recorder of deeds county treasurer chief deputy sheriff and chief clerk to the county commissioners in counties of this Commonwealth having over two hundred and fifty thousand population and less than four hundred thousand population by changing the manner of fixing salaries and prescribing the minimum thereof and making the act apply to counties of the third class.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. KUNKLE. Mr. Speaker and ladies and gentlemen of the House, this bill has been up before, and I spoke in reference to it. I merely want to remind the House in a few short words, that this is a bill raising the salaries in counties of the third class, the salaries of deputy clerks in the different offices, prothonotaries and sheriffs, controllers and others. The present act provides for a salary of $2500. This bill is to increase it to make it not less than $3000. and I appeal to you, members of the House, as a representative from one of the counties which is affected by this bill, that there is no necessity for raising salaries at the present time. The people are taxed almost to the limit, and for the taxpayers back home I appeal to you that there is no necessity whatsoever for this bill. Our clerks are satisfied and they are performing number one service, and there is no necessity in order to get clerks at fair recompense to increase these salaries, and I ask you to vote down this bill to save the taxpayers the burden.

Mr. GORHAM. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Westmoreland, Mr. Kunkle.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Westmoreland, Mr. Kunkle, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. KUNKLE. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. GORHAM. Could you tell me when the employees of this particular office have gotten an increase in wages?

Mr. KUNKLE. I don't know the date when they got the increase, but I do know that the salary is entirely sufficient for the work that they perform and is more than some of the offices are receiving for the same purposes at the present time.

Mr. GORHAM. Do you think it is sufficient money for a man to keep his family and make a livelihood out of it?

Mr. KUNKLE. I should say, "Yes."

Mr. GORHAM. You should say "Yes." What do you think is the salary that a man should get to keep up his home, keep the House and his family, what do you think the salary should be?

Mr. KUNKLE. There are different ways of living, different manners, and I see no reason for increasing the salary because these salaries are based on a certain plan, and if you are going to base this on that plan you have to increase all of the salaries for the other men on down the line, and it would be an endless job.

Mr. GIBBON. Mr. Speaker, this bill applies only to the third class counties, and provides that the salary board in each of the third class counties shall fix the salaries of the deputies at a minimum of $3000, and I am sure it is unnecessary for me to explain to you the responsibility that these officers would have. For your information I would just like to state that eighteen of the representatives of third class counties, members of the House, are for this bill.

On the question,

Will the House adopt the resolution as amended?

Mr. DUNN. Mr. Speaker, I move that the resolution be adopted as amended.

Mr. HAWS. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion.

Mr. DUNN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, this is a resolution that comes from the Senator from Philadelphia, asking for information from the Highway Department. It is for the purpose of placing the automobile license as collected by the State in counties. That is the only purpose of the resolution and it is no more than right and fair to the people of the Commonwealth and to the various counties to have this tabulated for the information of the people of the State. That is all the resolution asks.

Mr. ALEXANDER. This resolution will not do anything of the kind, because of the fact that many people that are residents of Montgomery, Bucks and Delaware counties are registered as from Philadelphia, doing business in Philadelphia, and therefore it will not show that the owners of the vehicles belong to the respective counties. The purpose here is to fix the amount that goes to the different counties. The gasoline tax is fixed now by the Auditor General, and we passed an act of assembly here which figured out just exactly how the counties are to receive it. That is not the purpose of this resolution at all. The idea is this, and this is only the first move or rather the first step, for the counties to get the tax returned to them, and especially the city of Philadelphia. We ought to vote against it.

Mr. DUNN. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, the gentleman from Delaware is absolutely wrong in his argument. He places a wrong construction on this resolution, and trys to impress on the minds of the members that the purpose of this resolution is to get part of the automobile license tax for the city of Philadelphia. This is absolutely wrong. We from the city of Philadelphia honestly believe that we have a right to some division of this tax, some portion of it, because under the Sprowl act of 1911 all the moneys spent in the Highway Department go to every county in the State of Pennsylvania except Philadelphia county. Why should not Philadelphia county be a benefactor of the automobile license tax, and the bonds issued by the vote of the people, on which they took the vote of Philadelphia county and which will take the vote of Philadelphia county again to put the next $50,000,000 over. Why should the Sprowl act take in every county in Pennsylvania except Philadelphia county and deprive it of some portion of the automobile license tax? Probably the majority of the members of this House think because Philadelphia is coextensive with the county it has no county district, but the district I represent comprises one-third of the whole area of the county of Philadelphia, because it is the agricultural part of that county, and we have over five hundred miles of county roads in my district which the city alone must repair and keep in repair and maintain. We have one hundred and forty-five miles of dirt road which at the present time we are unable to keep under repairs. With this $50,000,000 which we have helped to give the state of Pennsylvania, not one penny of it, under the Sprowl act could come into Philadelphia. Why should not Philadelphia be entitled to some portion of it, some consideration, in the expending of the money by the Highway Department for its county roads the same as other counties.

Mr. WONER. Mr. Speaker, I resire to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Dunn.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Dunn, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. DUNN. Pleased to have your interrogation.

Mr. WONER. Will you kindly inform the House what expense this bill will be to the state of Pennsylvania to get this information for the benefit of Philadelphia?

Mr. DUNN. According to the Chairman of the Public Roads Committee, the amendment has been made, "at the convenience of the Highway Commissioner", and I understand if it is left to him it will not cost anything. When it is taken in the rush, when the automobile license fees are paid, it will cost something, but under the advice of the chairman of the Public Roads committee he says it will not cost anything to the state to get this information.

Mr. WONER. I am advised that the cost of this will be about $30,000 a year.

Mr. DUNN. Is the chairman of the Public Roads committee here, Mr. George W. Williams.

The SPEAKER. The Chair suggests that the members address the Chair instead of the members of the House.

Mr. DUNN. Mr. Speaker, I merely asked whether he was here, but if the members of this House will take my word that he told me that, I don't want to create any false impression in the minds of members of this House, but Mr. Williams told me that if the Commissioner was allowed to use his own convenience to prepare this list it would not cost a penny to the state of Pennsylvania.

Mr. RHODES. Mr. Speaker, and members of the House, it seems to me that this is wrong on general principles. I agree with the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Alexander, that it would be detrimental to every country district and every country county. It seems to me that the city of Philadelphia gets all that is coming to it from this State. When it wants anything, it gets it. It is getting $6,000,000 this year for a bridge, and when the state is alledged to be practically bankrupt, notwithstanding that fact it gives $6,000,000 for that specific purpose, therefore in my opinion it should be voted down.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. Alexander and Mr. Dunn and were as follows:

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, informed that the Senate has concurred in the resolution from the House of Representatives, as follows:

In the House of Representatives, May 22, 1923

Resolution (If the Senate concur), That a committee consisting of three members of the House, who shall be appointed by the Speaker, and three members of the Senate, who shall be appointed by the President pro tempore, shall constitute a committee to consider the advisibility of adjourning the General Assembly over the week beginning May twenty-eighth said committee to submit a report of its recommendations in the form of a resolution.

And has appointed as such committee, Messrs, Barr, Weaver and Vare.

APPOINTMENT OF COMMITTEE

The SPEAKER. The Chair appoints as the committee on the part of the House, Messrs, McVicar, Craig and George W. Williams.

RECONSIDERATION OF VOTE.

Mr. CHAPLIN. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which House Bill No. 1457, (senate Bill No. 657.) file folio 2025, entitled:

An Act empowering School Districts to employ a Police Force was defeated on third reading on May 22nd, be reconsidered.

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. POSEY. Mr. Speaker, the purpose of asking for the reconsideration of this vote is to have the bill amended.

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. Speaker, may I say that I voted against this bill last night under a complete misapprehension of what they are trying to do. I think the title does not express at all the purpose of the bill. The real object of the bill is to have the watchman of school properties sworn in by the court so that he will have authority to make arrests. That is all they want.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

The SPEAKER. declared the "ayes" appeared to have it,

Whereupon, A division was called for, and 113 members, being more than a majority of the House, having voted in the affirmative the question was determined in the affirmative and the motion was agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. POSEY. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which House Bill No. 1457, (Senate Bill No. 657), was passed on third reading, be reconsidered.

Mr. EACHES. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

On the question recurring.

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. POSEY. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer an amendment at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk for information.

The Clerk then read the amendment as follows:

Amend the title by striking out after the word "Employ" the words "A Police Force" and insert in place thereof the word, "Policemen".

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the insertion of the amendment at this time? Is there any objection? The Chair hears none and the amendment will be inserted in accordance with the instruction of the House

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the bill as amended lie over for printing.

RECONSIDERATION OF VOTE.

Mr. MILLER. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which House Bill No. 345, file folio 5251, entitled:

An Act imposing a State license tax upon public slot machines used for vending weighing telephone or other service amusement entertainmnt or any other purposes imposing certain powers and duties upon the Auditor General proscribing penalties for the violation of the provisions of this act and providing for the confiscation of certain machines was defeated on final passage on May 15th, be reconsidered.

Mr. RINN. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion,

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

The SPEAKER. The Chair is unable to decide, and asks for a division.

Whereupon, 101 members having voted in the affirmative and 7 in the negative, the question was determined in the affirmative and the motion was agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

BILL POSTPONED.

Mr. J. W. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, I move that House Bill No. 345 be placed on the postponed calendar.

Mr. ORR. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

NAYS—0.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 1450 (Senate Bill No. 497), as follows:

An Act relating to county bridges authorizing counties to issue and sell bonds for the erection thereof and providing for the division of the cost of construction and erection of joint county bridges and the collection of tolls thereon

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That when in the opinion of the county commissioners of any county the cost of building a county bridge or bridges to be erected therein or the said county's proportionate share of the cost of a bridge to be erected over a river or stream upon the line between it and an adjoining county is so large in amount that to provide the funds necessary to pay the same by a single tax levy would be burdensome to the taxpayers said commissioners having first secured the approval of the court of quarter sessions of their county so to do may issue and sell to the highest bidder at not less than their face value interest bearing bonds of the county for the purpose of raising funds to defray the costs aforesaid

Section 2 Whenever any counties shall erect any joint county bridge the said counties may pay the cost of the construction and erection of such bridge in equal proportions or in any other proportions as the commissioners of the several counties may agree upon Whenever it is necessary for any counties in the construction of any joint county bridge to issue bonds in payment of such construction or erection the commissioners of said counties may with the consent of the State Highway Department if the cost of such bridge was in excess of four hundred thousand dollars assess supervise and collect such tolls for the use of said bridge for all traffic as may be necessary to pay the interest on said bonds and to create a sinking fund for the payment and redemption of the same The tolls so collected shall be distributed between such counties in proportion to the amount paid in by each county in the original construction and in no case shall any tolls be collected after the redemption of the original bonds issued

Section 3 All acts and parts of acts inconsistent with this act are repealed.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. BLUETT. Mr. Speaker, I should like to know if there is anyone here who can explain this bill.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Bluett, desires to know if there is any one in the House who can explain this bill.

Mr. GEORGE. W. WILLIAMS. Mr. Speaker, this bill applies to only two counties in the state, the counties of Greene and Fayette. It provides for the building of a county bridge across the Monongahela river. It affects the people of those two counties. It provides for a bond issue which has been authorized by a vote of the people of the two counties for the building of a bridge which is to remain a toll bridge until the earnings from it pay the bonds.

Mr. BLUETT. Mr. Speaker, I should like to interrogate the gentleman from Tioga further.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Tioga, Mr. Williams, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WILLIAMS. Yes, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. BLUETT. Have you read the bill?

Mr. WILLIAMS. I have.

Mr. BLUETT. Does it not say there "the county commissioners of any county"?

Mr. WILLIAMS. Yes, but that applies only where counties authorize the building of a bridge.

Mr. BLUETT. Might that not occur in any county of the state?

Mr. GEORGE W. WILLIAMS. If under similar conditions the counties authorize the building of the bridge, but it can only be done with the consent of the State Highway Department, if the cost of such bridge is in excess of $400,000.

Mr. BLUETT. But under such conditions, it may occur in any county of the state.

Mr. GEORGE W. WILLIAMS. If the people of the counties authorize the bond issue for the building of the bridge, this might happen.

Mr. BLUETT. Mr. Speaker and ladies and gentlemen of the House, it does not seem to me that at this late date we should go back to the old method of collecting tolls. The State has recently purchased the last toll road in the state and now this bill, I think, puts us back 150 years, because it will make it possible for any county in the state to erect a bridge or a part of a bridge where the bridge joins another county to float a bond issue for it and to levy a toll after it has been erected. It seems to me that this would be a step backwards and I hope this will be voted down.

BILL POSTPONED.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be placed on the postponed calendar for the present.

Mr. HEFFRAN. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 1143, (Senate Bill No. 292), as follows:

An Act to amend section ten of the act approved the twenty-seventh day of June one thousand eight hundred and ninety-five (Pamphlet Laws four hundred and three) entitled "An Act creating the office of county controller in counties of this Commonwealth containing one hundred and fifty thousand inhabitants and over prescribing his duties an dabolishing the office of county auditor in said counties"

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That section ten of the act approved the twenty-seventh day of June one thousand eight hundred and ninety-five (Pamphlet Laws four hundred and three) entitled "An Act creating the office of county controller in counties of this Commonwealth containing one hundred and fifty thousand inhabitants and over prescribing his duties and abolishing the office of county auditor in said counties" is hereby amended to read as follows

Section 10 That from and after the passage of this act all contracts made by the commissioners of said county involving an expenditure exceeding one hundred dollars shall be in writing and shall be awarded only with the approval of the controller and shall immediately after their execution be filed with the controller but no contract shall be made nor the payment thereof certified by the controller for over three hundred dollars unless when made with the lowest and best bidder after due notice to be published by the controller when directed by the commissioners if he approve the purpose of the proposals invited all bids to be received by the controller under seal and to be in his presence opened by the commissioners and the contracts awarded subject to approval by the controller and of which awards the controller shall keep a record and he shall certify no warrants for contracts not made agreeably thereto. All bids shall immediately after they are opened be filed with and be preserved by the controller.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. STONER. Mr. Speaker, I should like to know if there is anybody in the House who can explain why the sum of $100.00, which as the law now exists enables the county commissioners to enter into a contract without writing, should be enlarged to $300.00.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Stoner, desires to know if anyone in the House can explain this bill.

Mr. GIBBON. Mr. Speaker, the purpose of this bill is to permit county commissioners to purchase anything they may desire without advertising, that is anything costing less than $300.00. This bill was before the House a few weeks ago and was opposed by the gentleman from Deleware, Mr. Alexander, who opposed it for the reason that it stipulated that contracts need not necessarily be in writing, but since then the bill has been amended to meet the objections of Mr. Alexander.

Mr. STONER. Mr. Speaker, I did not understand that the bill had been amended. I notice it is amended back to $100.00 and this perfectly satisfactory.

Mr. LUDLOW. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Luzerne, Mr. Gibbon.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Luzerne permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. GIBBON. Yes, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. LUDLOW. On page 2, in the amendment, on lines 7 and 8, have been inserted the words, "shall be awarded only with the approval of the controller", so that now in all contracts over $100.00 in counties of the class mentioned, and that means fourth as well as third, no matter if the commissioners are unanimously for a contract one man, the controller, could prevent them from letting the contract. Don't you think this is an unreasonable delegation of authority to one man like the controller where the county commissioners are supposed to do the contracting for the county.

Mr. GIBBON. It does seem so, Mr. Ludlow. Since this bill was before us this other amendment was added, but that clause applying to the county controller was in the bill, that is not a recent amendment.

BILL POSTPONED.

Mr. LUDLOW. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, in fairness to the sponsor of the bill, I move that further consideration of the bill be postponed, because tonight with the membership here some of us who object to it would not be giving the bill a fair show.

Mr. GIBBON. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

TIME EXTENDED ON BILL.

Mr. DUNN. Mr. Speaker, I move that the time on House Bill No. 204, file folio 6649 entitled:

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. HASLETT. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, just want to say a few words in explanation of this bill. his bill is an act for annexation and applies to cities of e third class only. By the provisions of this bill a bor-gh, or a township, or part of a township, may be annexed a city of the third class providing they get a petition from venty-five per cent. of the taxables in the community to be nnexed. This petition is to be presented to the court, and e court shall direct that the county commissioners place pon the ballot at the November election, and the November ection is the only time, the word, "annexed," "Yes" or "No." a majority of both the part to be annexed and the city te in favor then annexation takes place, but if either or th vote against it, then annexation does not take place. changes the present method in this, that at the present me sixty percent of the citizens of a township or part of a wnship to be annexed must sign a petition to council, and ey then permit the annexation. Now, in one instance I ave known council has refused because they say it is too g a question for them and that it should be left to the ople, and there are one or two, or three other members at want this bill. I introduced it by request, but a few hers have wanted it and so we have gotten it out of com-ttee. That is the principle feature of this bill.

MOTION TO POSTPONE BILL.

Mr. LORENZO THOMAS. Mr. Speaker, I move that this ll be placed on the postponed calendar.

The motion was not agreed to.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1361, entitled:

An Act to prohibit the bribery of agents employees or servants and the giving or use of false documents with intent to deceive a principal employer or master to regulate evidence in such proceedings to provide for the attendance and testimony of witnesses production of documents and prosecution for perjury committed in so testifying to provide immunity for certain witnesses penalties for violation of this act and for other purposes

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. BLUMBERG. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the sponsor of this bill.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Montgomery, Mr. Ludlow, permit himself to be interrogated.

Mr. LUDLOW. Yes, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. BLUMBERG. Will the sponsor inform the House what this bill means?

Mr. LUDLOW. Mr. Speaker, this bill was introduced at the request of the National Paint and Varnish Association, and after its introduction letters and telegrams were received by me from practically every big commercial organization in the state. The purpose of it is to prevent what is known as commercial bribery. It prevents salesmen from receiving compensation on the side; it prevents purchasing agents from putting something in their own pockets on the side unknown to their employer. It is simply to prevent dishonest salesmenship. I have here telegrams and letters from the Paint Manufacturers Association, from the National Varnish Manufacturing Association, from the Purchasing Agents Association of Philadelphia, from concerns like the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing Company of Pittsburgh, from engineering associations like Stone and Webster, from the Funeral Directors Association, and so on through quite a list of commercial bodies, and from the Grocers and Importers Exchange, the Philadelphia Paint Oil and Varnish, the Purchasing Agents Association of the Lehigh Valley. I mention these more particularly to show the unanimity of approval which has come from commercial associations, at the request of one of which the bill was introduced.

Mr. BLUMBERG. Mr. Speaker, I desire to further interrogate the sponsor of the bill. Do I understand by this section 4 of this act than an offender or a witness might not at the trial take advantage of the common law principle that he need not testify if it incriminates him?

Mr. LUDLOW. I will have to look at that.

Mr. BLUMBERG. I will read the section, I believe words answer. "That in any proceeding or prosectuion under this act no person shall be excused from attending and testifying or from producing documentary evidence in obedience to the subpoena of the court on the ground, or for the reason. that the testimony or evidence, documentary or otherwise, required of him may tend to incriminate him or subject him to a penalty or forfeiture."

Mr. LUDLOW. If you read that further, "But no natural person shall be prosecuted or subjected to any penalty or forfeiture" for so testifying, which is the next sentence, I think it would answer the objection which would ordinarily be raised.

Mr. BLUMBERG. In other words this provision provides that while a man may not take advantage of that common law principle still he may not be punished for incriminating himself?

Mr. LUDLOW. Exactly so. In other words it is practically an immunity sanctioned to obtain the evidence to put a stop to commercial bribery.

Mr. BLUMBERS. And then do I understand by section 5 that this provision states that when two men are guilty under this act, in other words the employer giving the agent or another a bribe, the first one reporting it to the attorney general or the district attorney may be granted full immunity from prosecution. In other words where the agent accepts a bribe from another employer not his own, if he immediately reports to the attorney general, he himself is immune from punishment, whereas the employer may be punished. Is that correct?

Mr. LUDLOW. That is correct.

Mr. BLUMBERG. Does not the sponsor think that this provision would be a weapon in the hands of a rival employer? In other words if B desired to injure A and B secured one of his employees to make overtures to A as a result of which A bribes the employee of B and the employee immediately notifies the attorney general, would not that result then in the situation where A would be prosecuted, and where the employee would be granted immunity, so that the desire of B to injure A's credit or injure his personal liberty would be affected?

Mr. LUDLOW. I think that would only be so if the employer were a party to it. In other words we cannot impute the crime of the employee to the employer unless the employes deliberately accepts or receives a bribe for obtaining a job or a purchase. If that was so, then that person should be punished. In other words it is not possible under this act, to use slang, to "fake" a case against an honest employer by a rival. It requires not only, again to use the vernacular, the "frame", but it requires the guilty connivance of the employer, whom you are trying to frame and there are already existing laws which provide for cases of that kind. In other words there would probably be conspiracy on the part of the first employer and his employee to frame or have set up a job on the other man in your illustration, I believe under the existing law, I am not as familiar as some other members of the House with that type of law, but I believe under the existing law no honest employer, no honest salesman, no honest purchasing agent can be subjected to any punishment under this act. It simply protects the community from the kind of commercial bribery that unfortunately has grown up and which legitimate business is trying to fight, and this is their method of expression in fighting that commercial bribery.

Mr. BLUMBERG. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I am heartily in accord with the general purpose of this bill, and my only desire in interrogating the sponsor was to call attention to these two sections, four and five. I believe that section 4, the provision taking away the common law privileges of a man refusing to testify where he incriminates himself is a bad precedent to establish, unless we want to do away with that common law protection. Whether that is desirable or not is a debatable question, and whether we ought to start it or not is also debatable. The second section, section five, to my mind, leaves the door wide open to just such frame up cases as my colleague, Mr. Ludlow, feels or believes could not happen. This clause provides that where an offense has been committed under this act, the person first reporting it to the attorney general is immune from prosecution or punishment. The purpose of the act is to prevent commercial bribery. It does not apply between the employer and his own salesman or agents, but between the employer and sales agent of another. It appears to me, especially from the wording of this section, that two rival concerns in the field against each other can easily frame up a case against the other. In other words, the salesman of one of the firms could go to the other and say, "I have certain information which I can give you, but I want to be paid for it." He starts the conspiracy and the employer falls right in line and offers the bribe of $500.00 to provide a letter or to give him certain papers. We will say the bribe is paid there. As soon as the agent gets the bribe he notifies the district attnery, "I have committed an offense under this act. I have accepted a bribe." He is immune immediately from punishment, but the manufacturer, the giver of the bribe is not immune. I strike me that this section is wide open to the encouragement of committing an offense; also I believe it is a bad practice to start that and take away that common law principle that no man shall be forced to incriminate himself. For those two reasons, in those two particular sections of the bill, I believe the bill ought either to be amended or defeated.

BILL POSTPONED.

Mr. LUDLOW. Mr. Speaker, in view of the criticism of my colleague from Philadelphia, which criticisms I have never heard before, but they are well taken, I move that this bill be placed on the postponed calendar, it being my intention after conferring with Mr. Blumberg to so amend the bill as to save its desirable features and eliminate the undesirable ones.

Mr. BLUMBERG. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILLS ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 952, entitled:

An Act to carry into effect section eleven of article one of the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, by designating the manner, the courts and the cases in which suits may be brought against the Commonwealth; defining the procedure in such cases and providing for the payment of judgments, interest and costs by the Commonwealth.

On the question,
Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?
It was agreed to.
On the question,
Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the sponsor of this bill.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia Mr. Howard Smith, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. HOWARD SMITH. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, under Section 11 of the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, it says, "All courts shall be open; and every man for an injury done him in his lands, goods, person or regulation shall have remedy by due course of law, and right and justice administered without sale, denial, or delay. Suits may be brought against the Commonwealth in such manner, in such courts and in such cases as the legislature may by law direct."

In the past the practice has been to pass special acts of the Legislature enabling a man to sue the state, but the Supreme Court has declared that special acts of assembly, authorizing suits to be brought against the Commonwealth are unconstitutional. "The Commonwealth has recently by divers acts of assembly and in the exercise of the sovereignty taken over and assumed extensive public works heretofore constructed by counties, cities, boroughs and townships which municipal districts are and have hitherto been liable upon contracts as well as for negligence." When a man has entered into a contract he can sue for breach of contract. If a man has a contract with the state he knows he cannot sue the state, but if this bill is passed the man will be able to enter the suit against the state as he would against an individual. I feel the state would probably get its work done cheaper, because when a man makes a bid for work he bids on things which cannot be seen, and he allows for those things; if a man does work for the state he knows he cannot sue on that contract and he adds a sufficient percentage to take care of an emergency or contingency that might arise. I feel if this bill were passed and he was allowed to sue the state, the state would get cheaper work out of the contractor because he would not have to allow for those things which he could not see and for payments which might be delayed.

Mr. BLUMBERG. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call the attention of the House to the fact that this bill is an exact duplicate of Senate Bill No. 81, introduced by Senator Salus and now on our third reading calendar, on page 28. This bill has already passed the Senate. The bill has also been taken up with the Attorney General's Office and meets with their approval at this time.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

SENATE MESSAGE.

AMENDED HOUSE BILL RETURNED FOR CONCURRENCE.

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, returned bill from the House of Representatives, numbered and entitled as follows:

HOUSE BILL No. 386.

An Act making an appropriation to the Ellwood City Hospital Ellwood City Pennsylvania

With the information that the Senate has passed the same with amendment, in which the concurrence of the House of Representatives is requested.

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the amendments.

The Clerk read the amendments as follows:

Amend section 1, page 1 line 4, by striking out the word "five" and inserting in lieu thereof the word "seven".

Amend section 1, page 1, line 4, by striking out the numeral "($5,000)" and inserting in lieu thereof "($7,000)".

On the question,

Will the House concur in the amendments made by the Senate?

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker, all of these appropriation bills had very careful consideration in the House Appropriations Committee. On most all of them, sub-committees were appointed and the committees made thorough examination of the requirements when the appropriations were made. I, therefore, think that where these changes are made in the Senate, this House should nonconcur, whether these changes are raising or lowering the amounts, this House should nonconcur and have a conference committee appointed to confer with the members of the Senate, so we might know the reasons for the changes, and I therefore move that we non-concur in the amendments made by the Senate to this bill.

Mr. HOWARD SMITH. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. WHITEMAN. Mr. Speaker, in the absence of the chairman of the House Appropriations Committee, may I say that, as chairman of the sub-committee which considered nearly two hundred hospital bills and all of the bills of the homes, that while we endeavored to be just as fair to these institutions as it was possible to be, we were not infallible, handling that number of appropriation bills. While it is true that the figures raised have been very few, in some cases it has been demonstrated to the Senate Appropriations Committee that minor changes were necessary, and I might say, in the absence of the chairman of the Appropriations Committee of the House that all of these changes which have been made have been submitted to him, and in cases where he does not object, it has to be assumed he has been convinced that the changes are necessary, legitimate changes, and I think the House will find that these proposed amendments are right, that the changes, as a rule, with the exception of the one in which the House refused to concur, involves a small amount of money and are simply made in the interests of justice and fair play to the institution which have been built, and the committee is convinced that they are entitled to a little more money that we allotted. I think unless the chairman of the Appropriations Committee of the House does not object and ask the House to non-concur, that we ought not to quibble over a little change made in the interests of justice and fair play.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker, the Appropriations Committee is composed of a chairman and fifty-two other members. I still think there can be no harm done in having this conference committee appointed. As I said before, in the case of most all of these hospitals I know we were as generous as it was possible to be when they were in the Appropriations Committee. I was a member of the sub-committee, but I can see no reason for these changes. I cannot see where it would do any harm by having this committee on conference, and if there has been a mistake, like the gentleman from Westmoreland County said, that we are not infallible, I agree with him, and I also say that the Senate is not infallible, and I think the appropriations at this time are plenty high enough to take care of everything as we saw them. I am afraid that the appropriations are, perhaps, beyond our receipts to a certain extent, and therefore I still insist upon my motion.

Mr. DAVID J. JONES. Mr. Speaker, it is most unfortunate in this particular case that the gentleman from Delaware raises his particular objection. I believe, perhaps, the House is entitled to a little explanation in this particular case, relative to the bill under discussion, appropriating money to the Ellwood City Hospital. There is just a little history in connection with it, and I will make it as brief as possible. This is a new hospital in an intensely industrial section where I happen to live myself, and two years ago the chairman of the Board of directors, not being acquainted with the custom and practice for making application for an appropriation, made his application the same as it had been two years previous, namely, for $4,000. He should have doubled it to meet the growing conditions in the community where the hospital serves. He should have asked for a thousand dollars. The welfare department, at that time the Department of Charities, made its recommendation, and after hearing the case, agreed to hold a special meeting of the Board to review the case and to make a new recommendation to the House as to the amount. They raised the amount $1,000, making it the full amount of the application, stating that it was impossible to give more than the application called for, but they gave the full amount of that application. It went to the Senate as such, and the Governor signed it. I think it was, perhaps, one of a very few cases in the State where the amount applied for was the amount recommended by the Board of Charities and without change passing the House and Senate and being signed by the Governor. Under these circumstances, we believe that the hospital is entitled to $12,000 that was the amount called for in my bill, but the jump from $4,000 to $12,000, due to the error made two years ago, was so great that the Appropriations Committee could not see fit to pass it. When the bill came out for $5,000, I talked to the chairman of the Appropriations Committee as to the possibility of increasing it, and was told to let it go over to the Senate. The Senator agreed to do what he could to increase it somewhat, and now it comes back amended to $7,000. I sincerely hope that the House will concur in the amendments made by the Senate in this instance especially.

Mr. DUNN. Mr. Speaker, the same arguments submitted by my good friend from Lawrence applies to the hospital in which I am interested, the Frankford Hospital in the northeastern part of Philadelphia. The territory taken in by that hospital is almost one-half of the county. It reaches out to the boundary line of Montgomery and Bucks County. It is right in the lower end of an industrial center where numerous accidents occur, and unfortunately last year, they ran in debt over $20,000. The same argument applies to this hospital. The hospital has no endownments and is supported entirely by the working people, where accidents happen every day, and where the boulevard runs around the outside of the hospital and where automobile accidents in great numbers occur, and where the injured and dying and killed are carried in. So Mr. Speaker, our hospital is subject to the same conditions and the same argument would hold good as advanced by the gentleman from Lawrence.

Mr. WHITEMAN. Mr. Speaker, May I say for the inormation of the House and also for the information of the entleman from Delaware, Mr. Alexander, that I think it would be necessary to go back a good many years to find situation similar to that just now being experienced in his Legislature and that is, that the Senate Appropriations ommittee, with but half a dozen exceptions, has taken the gures as represented by the House Appropriations Committee. I do not think there has ever been a situation in which as few changes have been made as have been made his time, and it does seem to me that it ought to be made lain even if the motion of the gentleman from Delaware hould prevail, it should be made plain by this House that here is no disrespect meant to the Senate Appropriations ommittee, because I think that the Senate Appropriations ommittee and the Senate as a whole has accepted the igures of this House more successfully than has been the ase in a great many years. For the benefit of the gentleman from Delaware let me say that Mr. Smith, Secretary to he Appropriations Committee, that there have been but hree changes made in the nearly 154 State-aided hospitals. Ellwood City was raised $2,000; Brookville, $1,000. I think hat is the sum total of the amendments made by the Senate Appropriations Committee on State-aided hospitals.

Mr. GELDER. Mr. Speaker, two-thirds of the work of he Appropriations Committee in this session and in all past sessions has been done by sub-committees, and the gentleman from Delaware says he was a member of that ub-committee. If that is the case, and if as the Chairman of the sub-committee informs us, but three changes were made, I cannot see any necessity, if the sub-committee was atisfied, why we should throw this bill into a conference, and I say that as the sponsor of a bill that was just defeated by this House and which would have become one of the eneficiaries. I want to say in connection with that hospital hat it is at the junction of three divisions of a railroad, and till the total amount that hospital is to receive is $5,000 for he term of two years. Surely that is not an exhorbitant amount, and the sub-committee in deciding what they would give the hospital went under the average they were giving o other hospitals, and I presume that is the reason at this ime it was raised in the Senate. Under the welfare department's figures, it would be entitled to more than in the amendment.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr.. Speaker, I cannot see why the ponsor should object to this being put in a conference committee, especially so if they are entitled to this raise. The onference committee will look into these facts and will give hem their just dues I have no doubt. Why they should be fraid of that proposition I do not know.

Mr. GELDER. Mr. Speaker, I am not objecting to the onference committee, but I am objecting to a member of the ub-committee objecting to the work of his own sub-committee.

Mr. WHITEMAN. Mr. Speaker, I have no objection to eferring these amendments to a conference committee, just so that it is with the understanding made perfectly plain hat we do not intend any disrespect to the Senate Approriations Committee.

Mr. LUCAS. Mr. Speaker, I move the previous question.

The motion was seconded by the following members: Messrs. Haws, Whitehouse, Dunn, Craig, Heyburn, Alexnder, Bidelspacher, Earley, Eaches, Wells, Diehm, Fratt, rr, Burd P. Evans, J. W. Smith, Howard Smith, Bromley, onner, Burns, Colville and others.

The SPEAKER. More than twenty members having oined in moving the previous question,

On the question,

Shall the main question be put?

It was agreed to.

On the question, recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

It was agreed to, and the amendments were non-concurred in.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the Senate accordingly.

Mr. CRAIG. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

SENATE MESSAGE.

AMENDED HOUSE BILL RETURNED FOR CONCURRENCE.

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, returned bill from the House of Representativs, numbered and entitled as follows:

HOUSE BILL No. 841.

An Act making an appropriation to the Brookville Hospital Brookville Pennsylvania

With the information that the Senate has passed the same with amendment, in which the concurrence of the House of Representatives is requested.

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the amendments.

The Clerk read the amendments as follows:

Amend section 1, page 1, line 4, by striking out the word "five" and inserting in lieu thereof the word "six."

Amend section 1, page 1, line 4, by striking out the numeral "($5,000)" and inserting in lieu thereof "($6,000)"

On the question,

Will the House concur in the amendment made by the Senate?

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker, I move that the House do non-concur in the amendments made by the Senate.

Mr. HOWARD SMITH. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the Senate accordingly.

MOTION TO RECONSIDER VOTE.

Mr. WHITEHOUSE. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which the House refused to concur in the amendments made by the Senate to House Bill No. 96, file folio 8611, entitled:

An Act making an appropriation to the Pennsylvania Museum and School of Industrial Art be reconsidered.

Mr. EARLEY. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker, I think the gentleman from Schuylkill misunderstands what happened to that bill.

Mr. WHITEHOUSE. Mr. Speaker, if I do, I would like to be informed about it.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker, in the first place, we non-concurred in the amendment. Now, of course, by non-concurring, if the Senate refuses to recede from its amendments, then a conference committee will be appointed on all of these bills and they will all be in the same position. This one above all others, for the Pennsylvania Museum and School of Industrial Art should be non-concurred in, because it was raised from $112,000 to $150,000.

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, Mr. Whitehouse apparently has the correct idea—

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Alexander, has the floor.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker, there are no unfortunates in this case to be taken care of. This is not a hospital, it is an institution, the Pennsylvania Museum and School of Industrial Arts. A jump from $112,500 $150,000, or $37,500, is some jump. I think we should know the reason why.

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, I think Mr. Whitehouse has the right idea. If we are ready to reconsider, we can reconsider all along the line. This institution in Philadelphia is a very important one, important to the State and important to the nation. It is an important museum, an important school of education, and it has assisted the schools throughout the Commonwealth. Its resources have been at the command of the State every time when the State demanded them. The resources have been used repeatedly, and the amount asked for does not meet the requirements of the school.

Mr. WHITEHOUSE. Mr. Speaker, that is what I had in mind, if this reconsideration passes, that is, if the members who voted negatively on the other bills are minded to reconsider this and put it back in the position from which we started. Then we can pass these bills, concur in the Senate amendments, send them over to the Governor and let him act on them.

Mr. DAVID J. JONES. Mr. Speaker, in connection with this museum, for the benefit of the rural members, I would like to say that this institution is performing a wonderful work for the rural schools, and I certainly believe is deserving of all the consideration that it is possible for us to extend.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker, referring to the budget, I notice that $112,500 was the amount they received the last bi-ennium and that is the amount so far as the budget is concerned that is recommended here. The conference committee can take this up, as I said, with all the rest of them and they can look it up and see if it is right. If it is, then they will get what is coming to them.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. ALEXANDER and Mr. CRAIG and were as follows:

QUESTION OF INFORMATION.

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of information.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of information.

Mr. SOWERS. Do I understand it that these hospital bills and appropriations to charities have to have a two-thirds vote if we concur in the amendments?

The SPEAKER. Appropriations made to semi-state and private institutions require a two-thirds vote. Appropriations made to State institutions require a constitutional majority to pass.

Mr. SOWERS. But all these other bills, should we not have a two-thirds vote for appropriations for hospitals?

The SPEAKER. A two-thirds vote is required for bills carrying an appropriation to hospitals.

SENATE MESSAGE.

AMENDED HOUSE BILL RETURNED FOR CONCURRENCE.

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, returned bill from the House of Representatives, numbered and entitled as follows:

HOUSE BILL No. 842.

An Act making an appropriation to the Adrian Hospital Association of Punxsutawney Jefferson county Pennsylvania

With the information that the Senate has passed the same with amendments, in which the concurrence of the House of Representatives is requested.

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the amendments.

The Clerk read the amendments as follows:

Amend Section 1, page 1, line 4, by striking out after the word "of" the words "thirty-five", and inserting in lieu thereof the word "forty".

Also after the word "thousand" insert the words "five hundred".

Also by striking out after the word "dollars" the figures "($35,000)" and insert in lieu thereof the figures "($40,500)".

On the question,

Will the House concur in the amendments made by the Senate?

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, this is a raise of $5,500. Now, as there has been some criticism about my motions to non-concur, I do not propose to make any such motion, but I am calling your attention to the fact that I for one propose to vote "no", which means not to concur in the amendments, but I do not propose to make such a motion. It is for the House to say whether or not it will concur.

Mr. LUDLOW. Mr. Speaker, I move that the House do non-concur in the amendments made by the Senate to this bill.

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the Senate accordingly.

Whereas A committee of twenty-one superintendents principals and teachers in New York City after six month of investigation found these texts unfit for use in the public schools and characterized one in the following languag

"Mr. West presents only the views of the counsel fo the Crown He is constantly finding defense for the cours of action taken by the British Government The America side of the argument is entirely ignored No Weddeburn n Crown advocate could plead the British cause in a mor bitterly partisan spirit than West has done"

Whereas These historical texts have been condemned i formal resolutions by the American Legion the descendant of the signers of the Declaration of Independence the Gran Army of the Republic the Knights of Columbus the Sons o the American Revolution the United Spanish War Veteran and the Veterans of Foreign Wars and

Whereas It is alleged these texts teach that many Patriot were drawn into the Continental Army by money bountie and promises of land that the Boston Tea Party was wholl a lawless destruction of property that if you called Washington an American he would have thought you were applying a nickname that the American Revolution was no an attempt of England to tyrannize over the Colonies tha the wisdom of the break from England is a debatable question that the English Colonial system was not tyrannica that the War of one thousand eight hundred and twelv originated in blunder and was conducted discreditably an that it was a mistake that the first signer of the Declaratio of Independence was a smuggler that the Continenta Congress was made up of scoundrels and was the scen of petty bickerings and schemings among selfish unworth short sighted narrow minded office seeking and office tradin plotters and many other offensive provisions and

Whereas We should in all justice do honor t our forefathers credit to ourselves and justice to our chi dren by purging the public schools of histories that are disloyal to American traditions spirit and prestige and

Whereas Laws have been passed in the States of Orego Washington Wisconsin and New York prohibiting the us of such text and measures of the same kind are pendin in Colorado Idaho Misouri West Virginia and Florida an in Indiana the legislature in letting a five year contrac of text books excluded all the accused histories therefor be it
